Asian Art, Part I

The Cäcilie and Oscar Graf-Pfaff Collection

Alongside painting, Oscar Graf (1873 – 1958) also mastered various techniques of etching and lithography. Especially regarding the difficult art of aquatint he performed outstandingly. In 1904, he participated in the first exhibition organised by the Deutscher Künstlerbund (German Artists Association). He was named ‚Royal Professor' by the House of Wittelsbach. For his art print 'Pietà' he was awarded the Golden Medal and later the Goethe Medal.
In 1902, he married well-known artist Cäcilie Bader-Pfaff (1868 – 1939), who then changed her name to Graf-Pfaff. She was an equally renowned painter, who distinguished herself as graphic artist and illustrator. During her studies at Akademie der bildenden Künste she met Japanese artist Harada Naojirô (1863 – 1899). He thought her the techniques of Japanese ink painting. She would collect Japanese and East Asian art ever since and could also interest Oscar Graf in it. Writer Mori Ôgai (1862 – 1922) also ranked among their acquaintances.
Owing to their extensive network of important collectors and art dealers, the artist couple could organise an impressive exhibition titled ‚Japan und Ostasien in der Kunst' (Japan and East Asia in the Arts) in 1909 in Munich. The elegant poster designed by Neben seiner Malerei beherrschte Oscar Graf (1873 – 1958) meisterhaft verschiedene Techniken der Radierung und Lithographie. Besonders in der schwierigen Kunst der Aquatinta leistete er Hervorragendes. 1904 nahm er an der ersten, vom Deutschen Künstlerbund organisierten Ausstellung teil. Vom Hause Wittelsbach wurde er zum ‚Königlichen Professor' ernannt. Für sein Kunstblatt ‚Pietà' erhielt er die goldene Medaille und später die Goethemedaille. 1902 heiratete er die bekannte Künstlerin Cäcilie Bader-Pfaff (1868 – 1939), die sich danach Graf-Pfaff nannte. Sie war eine ebenso bekannte Malerin, die sich als Grafikerin und Illustratorin auszeichnete. Während ihres Studiums an der Akademie der bildenden Künste lernte sie den Japaner Harada Naojirô (1863 – 1899) kennen. Von diesem lernte Cäcilie Graf-Pfaff die Technik der japanischen Tuschmalerei. Seitdem sammelte sie japanische und ostasiatische Kunst und konnte auch Oscar Graf dafür interessieren. Zu dem Bekanntenkreis der beiden gehörte auch der Schriftsteller Mori Ôgai (1862 – 1922).

Cäcilie Graf-Pfaff (1868–1939)

Oscar Graf uses a Japanese woodcut. Covering 18 halls at the exhibition park at Theresienhöhe, the exhibition impressed and inspired many artists. Largely written by Cäcilie Graf-Pfaff, the informative catalogue displays her tremendous interest in Japanese art. In 1925, she and Oscar Graf published the now widely appreciated ‚Japanisches Gespensterbuch' (Japanese Ghost Book), which was issued as a facsimile reprint in 2010.

In their private apartments the couple lived amid a collection of selected artworks from East Asia. Photographs clearly convey the pleasure derived from being surrounded by East Asian art. The collection of masks in the photographs perfectly fits into this picture. From this very collection three women's masks are listed in the auction (cat. no. 2008). As well as a collection of miniature masks based on historical models (cat. no. 2007). Highly important is the large Chinese Buddhist sculpture (cat. no. 2000). As photographs show, it was likewise in the apartment. This was also where the Chinese scroll painting (cat. no. 2001) was hung, which is attributed to famous Ming dynasty painter Cui Zizhong (1574–1644). From the same private collection are a tea bowl (chawan) of Oribe stoneware, a tea caddy for powdered tea (chaire) of Bizen ceramic and various objects made of Japanese lacquer (cat. no. 2009–2015) as well as other objects not listed here.

Das elegante, von Oscar Graf entworfene Plakat verwendet einen japanischen Holzschnitt. Die Ausstellung in 18 Sälen des Ausstellungsparks auf der Theresienhöhe beeindruckte und inspirierte viele Künstler. Der informative, größtenteils von Cäcilie Graf-Pfaff verfasste Katalog zeigt ihre intensive Beschäftigung mit der japanischen Kunst. Zusammen mit Oscar Graf gab sie 1925 die heute als hervorragend gerühmte Publikation ‚Japanisches Gespensterbuch' heraus, die 2010 als Faksimile-Nachdruck erschien. In seinen Privaträumen umgab sich das Paar mit einer Sammlung ausgesuchter Kunst aus Ostasien. Fotos vermitteln deutlich die Freude, sich mit ostasiatischer Kunst zu umgeben. In dieses Bild passt auch die Sammlung von Masken, die auf den Fotos zu finden ist. Aus dieser Sammlung sind in der Auktion drei Frauen-Masken (Kat. Nr. 2008) aufgelistet. Zudem eine Sammlung von Miniaturmasken nach historischen Vorbildern (Kat. Nr. 2007). Hochbedeutend ist die große chinesische buddhistische Skulptur (Kat. Nr. 2000). Diese stand ebenfalls in den Wohnräumen, wie Fotos zeigen. Dort hing auch das chinesische Rollbild (Kat Nr. 2001), das dem berühmten Maler der Ming-Dynastie Cui Zizhong (1574–1644) zugeschrieben werden konnte. Ebenfalls aus der privaten Sammlung stammen eine Teeschale (chawan) aus Oribe-Steinzeug, eine Teedose für Pulvertee (chaire) aus Bizen-Keramik und verschiedene Gegenstände aus japanischem Lack (Kat. Nr. 2009–2015) und andere hier nicht aufgezählte Objekte.

IMPRESSIVE FIGUR OF A FEMALE BODHISATTVA.
BEEINDRUCKENDE FIGUR EINES WEIBLICHEN BODHISATTVA.
China. Ming dynasty (1368-1644) or earlier.

Wood with residue of lacquer and the reinforcement fabric. Standing lady in somewhat twisted stance, here hands held in front of her chest, maybe offering once an object. The garment shows the elegant style of the Tang dynasty with a wide skirt, which is fastened high over the waist with a long dangling band. Combined with a jacket with wide sleeves, which she has pushed back in folds on her arms. According to the fashion of the period, she is shown as a lady who has put on bit of weight with an oval face and her hair put up in a complicated hairdo.

Obviously the figure was part of a group, as her attitude is focused to somewhat else. Because of the missing attributes, it is not possible to ascribe her exactly. Height 94cm, width 31.5cm, depth 24cm. Condition B. Restored.

Provenance:
-Collection of Oskar Graf 1873-1958 and Cäcilie Graf-Pfaff 1862-1939.

ELEGANT LADY WITH ATTENDANCE STROLLING IN EARLY SPRING.
ELEGANTE DAME IN BEGLEITUNG BEIM SPAZIERGANG IM FRÜHLING.

China. Late Ming dynasty. Colors and ink on silk. Mounted as hanging scroll. Length 265cm, width 69.5cm, picture size 128 x 49.8cm. In a wide landscape a lady dressed in costly silk robes with a jade pendant at her waist and elaborately made up hair is strolling at a water bank.

She turns to her attendant, who is likely dressed in silk robes and carries a flower basket on her back. Near to a rock arrangement with a railing, which shows that this is rather a garden or park, a slender weeping willow is growing. This tree is compared to the beauty and elegance of ladies. In the foreground some prunus are flowering near rocks.

The painting is accomplished skillfully and with much detail. The ladies are shown with bright faces, delicate hands and slender, stretched bodies. The landscape conveys width and the season is transmitted by detail. Sign.: Qing Yin Cui Zi Zhong Xie – painted by Qingying Cui. Seal: Cui Zi Zhong Yin – Seal of the painter. On the outside of the scroll: Cui Qing Yin Xian Sheng Xie Zhen Ren Wu Zhen Ji - Portrait of a lady by Cui Qingyin. Condition B/C. Restored, traces of use according to age, darkened, blemished and folded.

IMPRESSIVE LOKAPALA WORLD GUARDIAN.
BEEINDRUCKENDER LOKAPALA WELTENWÄCHTER.
China. Ming dynasty (1368-1644).

Wood, carved, with gilding and lacquer. Adorned with a marvelous armor standing in sidestep with his right arm stretched to the back and the left raised with clenched fist. Because of the powerful stance and the pose of his right hand, which might have clenched a halberd, he might be the guardian of the North. In the expressive face the eyebrows and the beard are painted with ink and the beard was once additionally set in with real hair. His armor is decorated at the upper body with a three dimensional lion mask. The sweeping cloak emphasizes his body tension and movement, likewise the swinging, struck back wide sleeves.

At the back of the figure two sealed cavities are visible. A radiological investigation showed that they are connected and the upper, smaller one was opened before. In such cavities scrolls, smaller figures and other holy objects were placed, when the figure was consecrated. In the x-ray it got visible, that the figure is carved from one block of wood, except the head, which was worked separately and set in. Height 65cm, width ca. 63.5cm, depth ca. 25cm. Condition B. PEONIES, DAFFODILS AND LINGZHI MUSHROOMS.
PÄONIEN, NARZISSEN UND LINGZHI-PILZE.
China. In the style of Jiang Tingxi (1669-1732), but probably later.

Between the densely packed petals of the peonies the stamina is shown in viscous color in a granular manner, the twigs end in swelling buds. The daffodils with clouds of white flowers over the crowded knife-like leaves growing from the bulbs. The mushrooms pick up the gnarled structure of the branches. 90 x 153cm. Signed and seal: Jiang Tingxi, but in the style of. Seal on the lower right: Huaiyin Shanfang, workshop and shop in Peking. Condition B. Glued onto cardboards, scratched and some blemishes. IMPORTANT FIGURE OF BUDDHA AKSHOBHYA.
Tibet. 13th/14th c.

Light-colored bronze with thin residue of gilding, with inlays of copper and some residue of pigments. Sitting in vajra pose on a lotus base with an engraved vajra before him, his hands in dyana and bhumsparsha mudra. His expressive face and the taut body tension convey the imperturbable countenance he is symbolizing. The kasaya garment, draped on his left shoulder and in front of his feet falls in elegant folds. It is adorned with a border inlaid in copper with engraved patterns. The earlobes are elongated from wearing heavy earrings, the urna is distinctly accentuated. In the face at the mouth and eyes as well as at the leaves of the base traces of a vivid red pigment, maybe cinnabar, are preserved, the hair is painted in lapis lazuli.

The plate, which closes the base, is probably original and shows a finely engraved stylized lotus blossom including the eight Buddhist treasures with a double vajra in the center. The base is filled with strips, which might be paper or fabric, or probably straw. Other objects might be embedded, but these do not clearly show in the X-ray images. Weight 481g, height 14cm, width 10,2cm, depth 6,8cm. Condition A/B. Two older repairs from the casting.

The careful workmanship and the exceptional quality of the design clearly show that this piece stems from a major workshop.

LARGER THAN LIFE HEAD OF DRUKPA KUNLEY.

ÜBERLEBENSGROSSER KOPF DES DRUKPA KUNLEY.

Tibet or Nepal. 18th c.

Copper bronze in repoussé with gilding and painted with pigments. The impressively large head shows stylized, overstated facial features and an elaborate hairstyle. The head is composed of two parts. The ears and the chignon are separately worked and riveted to the head, as well as the stand in shape of the shoulders. The Vandyke beard gives the idea, that this might be a portrait of Drukpa Kunley. He lived 1455-1529 in Tibet and was made immortal in the oral tradition of Bhutan as 'holy madman'. The sometimes erotic stories featuring him have unconventional themes and are teaching about the problems of carnal desires in the Buddhist world. They are alternating with stripes with green, blue and dark red background with weft brocaded patterns. The colors of the background are from natural sources, while the weft brocaded patterns seem to be dyed with chemical dyes. THE TRANSCENDENT BUDDHA VAIROCANA.
DER TRANSZENDENTE BUDDHA VAIROCANA.
Tibet. Ca. 16th/17th c.

Figure from cast copper bronze, gilt and painted with pigments. Base in repoussé, gilt copper bronze. The well-proportioned face shows a fine smile and residue of the detailed painting, especially at the left eye. The hands held in front of the heart in a mirrored bodyangi mudra, which symbolizes the unification of opposites. The kasaya garment draped in elegant folds over the left shoulder and arm and in front of his feet. The base closed underneath. In the radiological examination, it became visible that the base is filled with smaller rounded forms, which are probably cereals, possibly barley.

Vairocana as the central of the five big Tathagata Buddha symbolizes the absolute wisdom and radiates throughout the whole universe. His mudra resembles the teaching gesture, as he is revered as a great teacher. Height 25cm. Condition A/B. Some older repairs beneath the gilding.

The Detlef Rosen Collection

Detlef Rosen (1941–2017) was an exceptional adventurer and aesthete. As the son of famous gallerist and antiquarian Gerd Rosen (1903–1961), he grew up amid art and old books. In 1945, his father opened Germany's first post-war gallery on Berlin's Kurfürstendamm and presented artworks, which had hitherto been considered 'degenerate'. The Rosens' home was decorated with masterworks by Picasso, Matisse, Nolde, and Klee. Detlef Rosen's sense of quality and his eye for authenticity thus formed early on in his life. Nevertheless, the eldest of the three children never considered to follow in his father's footsteps. He felt an urge to see the world. Already in his schooldays he attended the German school in Rome for a year, and upon graduation he signed on as a ship-boy in order to see distant continents. The early death of his father in 1961 brought him back to Germany and by chance he came to Frankfurt. Detlef Rosen was instructed to conduct the sale of his father's house in Frankfurt and apparently handled it quite professionally. The new owners set up a market research institute in the building and - impressed with his negotiating skills - offered him an apprenticeship. Thereafter, market research - then still a young discipline - took Rosen to the advertising metropolis of Düsseldorf. Soon, however, Rosen felt the need to travel again. Feeling constrained by his job at an advertising company, he quit and left for America in search of a business idea for future self-employment. Then as much as today, the USA pioneered the modern and Rosen noticed that people were wearing colorful, printed t-shirts - a piece of clothing not yet popular in Germany. A suitcase filled with samples in hand, he flew to Bangkok and inquired for textile factories with the German-Thai Chamber of Commerce. With a stuck-up smile it was pointed out to him that he was not the first to come up with the idea of producing t-shirts for the German market and that all factories were fully booked for the next two years. Slightly downcast, Rosen wandered the streets of Bangkok, and he noticed a store for old furniture and craftsmanship. Fascinated by the foreign aesthetic he bought generously - there and on a first trip through the country - to bring back to Düsseldorf a container fully laden with Asian art and antiques. This was the beginning of his career as a fine art and antiques dealer of artworks and curiosities from all over the world. With his friend Dieter Ladwig he opened the shop 'Curios' on Düsseldorf's Königsallee. To stock his shore, he was always – and almost obsessively - in search of the finest pieces from the most remote parts of the entire southern hemisphere. To this end, he did not shy away from dangers, such as going to Vietnam during the war only to rescue cultural treasures from the turmoil. While he sold the majority of his acquisitions, he always kept the finest pieces for himself and his personal collection. Among other things, Detlef Rosen also brought thin carpets, known as Dorri, from India which became immensely popular. One client requested a particularly large model expressly in blue and yellow for his holiday residence. Hitherto, Rosen had always brought old original carpets, but in order to comply with this order he visited carpet factories in India for the first time and had a carpet made exactly according to the client's wishes. From then on, similar orders came pouring in, sparking his personal interest in carpet design. This was the beginning of a career as a carpet designer, which deeply influenced today's conception of modern carpets. For more than 25 years Detlef Rosen produced modern handmade carpets and home textiles, also in cooperation with designers like Ulf Moritz, Christine Kröncke, Ermenegildo Zegna, and the artist Petrus Wandrey. He had factories all over the world for the production of his products and insisted on paying them regular visits. On these occasions he also visited local markets and antiques dealers - although he professionally engaged in the latest designs and trends, his apartment was the exact opposite. Within more than 40 years he had brought together a personal private museum, which was reminiscent of a cabinet of curiosities. This collection was his very personal life's work and it included objects from China, Tibet, India, as well as ethnologic treasures from Oceania and Africa. He was intrigued by the bizarre, the partly abstract or naive designs, the gloss of patina, and the aura of objects with a past.

It is a great pleasure to announce that the second part of this collection will be offered in our rooms in June 2018.

Detlef Rosen (1941–2017)

Detlef Rosen (1941–2017) war ein außergewöhnlicher Abenteurer und Ästhet. Als Sohn des berühmten Galeristen und Antiquars Gerd Rosen (1903–1961) wuchs er umgeben von Kunst und alten Büchern auf. Sein Vater eröffnete 1945 auf dem Kurfürstendamm in Berlin die erste Nachkriegsgalerie Deutschlands und zeigte Kunstwerke, die zuvor als „entartet" galten. Zuhause bei Rosens schmückten Meisterwerke von Picasso, Matisse, Nolde und Klee die heimischen Wände und prägten schon in jungen Jahren Detlef Rosens Gespür für Qualität und seinen Blick für Authentizität. Trotzdem kam es für den erstgeborenen Sohn von drei Kindern nicht in Frage, in die Fußstapfen des Vaters zu treten. Detlef Rosen war neugierig auf die große weite Welt. Schon zu Schulzeiten besuchte er für ein Jahr die deutsche Schule in Rom und gleich nach der Schule heuerte er als Schiffsjunge an, um ferne Kontinente zu bereisen. Der frühe und plötzliche Tod seines Vaters 1961 holte ihn zurück nach Deutschland und ein Zufall brachte ihn nach Frankfurt. Detlef Rosen war mit der Veräußerung eines Hauses seines Vaters in Frankfurt beauftragt und stellte sich dabei offenkundig sehr professionell an. Die neuen Hausbesitzer gründeten in dem Gebäude ein Marktforschungsinstitut und boten ihm, beeindruckt von seinem Verhandlungsgeschick, dort einen Ausbildungsplatz an. Die damals noch junge Disziplin der Marktforschung brachte Rosen im Anschluss in die Werbemetropole Düsseldorf. Schon bald lockte Rosen wieder das Reisefieber. Die Festanstellung in einer Werbeagentur engte ihn ein, er kündigte und machte sich auf den Weg nach Amerika auf der Suche nach einer Geschäftsidee, mit der er sich selbstständig machen konnte. Damals wie heute waren die USA Vorreiter auf dem Gebiet der Mode und Rosen fiel auf, dass die Menschen dort bunte und bedruckte T-Shirts trugen – ein Kleidungsstück das in Deutschland noch nicht verbreitet war. Mit einem Koffer volle Samples flog er darauf hin nach Bangkok und fragte bei der Deutsch-Thailändischen Handelskammer nach Textilfabriken an. Mit einem hochnäsigen Lächeln wurde er darauf aufmerksam gemacht, dass er nicht der erste sei, der auf die Idee kommt T-Shirts für den deutschen Markt zu produzieren und dass die entsprechenden Fabriken schon für die kommenden zwei Jahre ausgebucht seien. Etwas niedergeschlagen spazierte Rosen durch Bangkok und ihm fielen ein Geschäft mit alten Möbeln und Handwerkskunst auf. Fasziniert von der fremden Ästhetik kaufte er großzügig dort und auf einer ersten Rundreise durchs Land ein und brachte einen Container voll mit asiatischer Kunst und Antiquitäten zurück nach Düsseldorf. Das war der Beginn einer Karriere als Kunst- und Antiquitätenhändler für Asiatika und Kuriositäten aus aller Welt. Mit seinem Freund Dieter Ladwig eröffnete er das Ladengeschäft „Curios" auf der Königsallee in Düsseldorf. Zur Bestückung des Geschäfts war er wie ein Besessener stets auf der Suche nach den besten Stücken aus den entlegensten Winkeln der gesamten südlichen Halbkugel. Dafür schreckte er auch nicht vor Gefahren zurück und war zum Beispiel zu Zeiten des Krieges in Vietnam unterwegs, um Kulturschätze vor den Wirren des Krieges zu retten. Während er den Großteil seiner Errungenschaften verkaufte, behielt er immer die besten Stücke für sich und seine persönliche Sammlung. Unter anderem brachte Detlef Rosen auch dünne Teppiche, genannt Dorri, aus Indien mit, die auf große Beliebtheit stießen. Ein Kunde brauchte für sein neues Feriendomizil ein besonders großes Exemplar explizit in blau und gelb. Zuvor hatte Rosen immer alte original Teppiche mitgebracht, aber um diesem Auftrag gerecht zu werden, suchte er zum ersten Mal Teppichfabriken in Indien auf und ließ einen Teppich passgenau auf die Wünsche seines Kunden produzieren. Von da an häuften sich die Anfragen dieser Art und auch sein persönliches Interesse für Teppich Design war geweckt. Dies war der Beginn einer Karriere als Teppichdesigner, die maßgeblich das heutige Selbstverständnis für moderne Teppiche prägte. Über 25 Jahre produzierte Detlef Rosen moderne handgemacht Teppiche und Wohntextilien unter anderem in Zusammenarbeit mit Designern wie Ulf Moritz, Christine Kröncke, Ermenegildo Zegna und Künstler Petrus Wandrey. Für die Herstellung seiner Produkte hatte er weltweit Fabriken und ließ es sich nicht nehmen diese regelmäßig zu besuchen und bei der Gelegenheit auch immer die lokalen Märkte und Antiquitätenhändler aufzusuchen, denn obwohl er beruflich sich mit den neusten Designs und Trends befasste, war seine Wohnung das komplette Gegenteil. In über 40 Jahren hatte er ein persönliches Privatmuseum zusammengetragen, das an ein Kuriositätenkabinett erinnerte. Diese Sammlung war sein ganz persönliches Lebenswerk mit Objekten aus China, Tibet, Indien bis zu ethnologischen Schätzen Ozeaniens und Afrikas. Ihn faszinierte das Skurrile, die zum Teil abstrakte oder naive Formsprache, der Glanz von Patina und die Ausstrahlung von Objekten mit Geschichte.

Es ist uns ein großes Vergnügen an dieser Stelle darauf aufmerksam zu machen, dass ein zweiter Teil dieser Sammlung im Juni 2018 zum Aufruf kommt.

RARE AND IMPRESSIVE LARGE GRADE FIGURE.

SELTENE UND BEEINDRUCKEND GROSSE INITIATIONS-FIGUR.

Oceania. Vanuatu, Malampa Province, Ambrym Island. Probably the first third of the 20th c. Group of Ni-Vanuatu.

Tree fern (Cycadophyta) with a smoothed layer of earth, painted with white pigment. The anthropomorphic male figure is equipped with a helmet-like enlarged head. Both arms are placed at the sides with the hands next to the genitals. The figure was cut from the brittle, intertwined root hairs, which build the outer layer around a firmer trunk. The carefully applied and painted earth layer is amazingly well preserved.

These figures, called Maghe ne Naun or Maghe ne Hivir were used for the complex rites, which gradually introduced persons into political and religious power. This is probably the figure for a man. For the rites the figure was dug partly into the soil of the dancing ground and symbolized the spirit of the stage of the grade. The slowly rotting of the material was identified with the slowing influence of the spirit. The very good preservation of the extremely sensitive material makes clear that this figure was not exposed to the weather for a long period of time. Height approx. 260cm. Condition A/B.

RARE AND EXTREMELY LARGE TUMBUAN GABLE MASKS.
SELTENE UND AUSSERGEWÖHNLICHE GROSSE TUMBUAN-GIEBELMASKE.
Papua New Guinea, Middle Sepik region, Sangriman at the junction of the rivers Krosmeri and Blackwater. First half of the 20th c. Abelam people group.

Rotang frame, braided with reddish climbing fern (Lygodium) and painted with earth pigments. The flat, bowl-shaped mask shows a stylized face with a ridge for the nose, which is elongated until the mouth. The eyes are worked separately and appliquéd. There are five ear-like arches at the sides and below. Unusual is the good condition of the overpainting, which is likely to be rubbed off due to the flexibility of the woven material.

For the Abelam the cultivation and processing of yams is central. The various stages are celebrated. This also included dances in robes and masks. Such large masks, however, where fixed on the pediment of the up to 25 meters high.

Provenance:
-Since the middle of the 20th c. in the collection of Gerd Rosen (1903-61), Berlin. Acquired locally.

RARE ANCESTOR SKULL AND NAMPUGI MASK.

SELTENER AHNENKOPF UND NAMPUGI-MASKE.

Oceania, Vanuatu, Malukula resp.
Tomman Island. Ca. middle 20th c.
Folk group of Letemboi.

Skull, plant fibers, earth pigments, feathers, shells, spider webs. The elongated occipital of the skull was covered with fur, the face coated with earth pigments and plant fibers. The elongated calotte speaks of the fact that this was a person from higher social standing. To the side the skull is decorated with long feathers and three shells as reference to the status of the person. The Nampugi mask with her protruding eyes symbolizes death and represents the deceased until his own skull is ready for processing.

The reworked skulls were placed on life-size figures called ramparamp. In many cultures in the Pacific, the head is considered the seat of the soul and is for this reason as a relic after death. Red, black and yellow ink on paper. The diagram consists of two hexagonal stars, set into each other inside a lotos flower, surrounded by a square (bhupura) with four doorways. All parts are inscribed in devanagari. In this picture the sixth night of sixteen nitya of the Tantric deity Lalita is shown as yantra. The nitya symbolize the nights of the waxing moon. The name vahnivasani means 'The dweller in the fire' and she is thought of as a beautiful young woman in golden color, dressed in yellow and adorned with rubies.

active 19th/20th c.

THE REASONS FOR MY LIFE IN THE HERMITAGE FOR 56 YEARS.
DIE GRÜNDE FÜR MEIN LEBEN IN DER KLAUSE FÜR 56 JAHRE.

China. Spring 1915. Ink and light colors on paper. Length 151cm, width 70.5cm. The painting in a traditional manner shows a scholar in long dress (pao) and jacket (magua) at the shore in a wide garden landscape with trees. It portrays probably the cousin Wang Zhaoquan (1859-1929) of the author and politician Wang Zhaoyoung (1861-1939), who made the calligraphy. The two grew up together and met again after more than 50 years. In his right hand he holds an orchid risp. This flower symbolizes scholarship and represents nobility, integrity and friendship.

His face is portrayed in the Western manner, in contrast to the landscape in traditional Chinese style. The calligraphic inscription is from Wang Zhaoyong, the seals were cut by Xi Nong 'Jin De'. Whether the landscape and the portraits are from one hand or by different artists, cannot be derived from the inscription and signatures. All in all, it could be the collaboration of several artists. The portrait is almost photographically reproduced, although in the depiction of the dressed figure, a certain three-dimensionality was achieved by using shadows. The landscape, on the other hand, is entirely painted in traditional Chinese style.

Wang Zhaoyong is the elder brother of Wang Jinwei (1883-1944), Premier and First President of the Chinese Republic. Sign.: Yun Sun 'Ji Sui' (painter), Xi Nong 'Jin De' (seal cutter). Longer dated inscription: Yi Mao Zhongchun Wu Wang Zhaoyong Jing Ti - In the middle of spring 1915 respectfully written by Wang. Framed with glass. Condition A/B.

Grey sandstone with natural patina and residue of lacquer gilding. Unrestored condition. The crowned Buddha with his hands in dhyana mudra, seating in ardha padmasana on the coiled-up body of Muchalinda, the Naga-king, whose seven heads form a aureole behind the pate of Buddha. Provenance:

The depiction shows a mythological episode from the life of the historic Buddha. Someday, when he was meditating a thunderstorm with heavy rain occurred. Muchalinda, the king of Naga (snakes), came out of a nearby lake and invited Buddha to sit on his coiled-up body. He then put up his seven heads above the head of Buddha to protect him from rain. After the rain, Muchalinda changed back to his royal appearance, bowed and returned to his kingdom.

RARE AND LARGE FIGURE OF GANESHA.
SELTENE UND GROSSE DARSTELLUNG DES GANESHA.
Java. Ca. 10th/11th c.

Bronze with very fine green patina. This rare and comparatively large bronze Ganesha image is a tour-de-force of workmanship. Ganesha sits in the posture of Royal Ease (rajalalitasana) on a lotus throne, his trunk mischievously dipped into the bowl with sweets. His hands hold his classic attributes: the broken tusk, the battle axe, and a (fragmentary) rosary. His crown is decorated with Shiva's crescent and a skull. The elaborate halo is decorated with lotus flowers and leaves, and a group of worshipping figures.

Ganesha, the son of Shiva and Parvati, is the most popular Hindu deity. Known to be the remover of obstacles, offerings are made to him prior to the beginning of any venture, be it an exam, a long journey or the beginning of a new business. Not surprisingly, Ganesha was not only venerated in India itself, but also in the distant trading outposts in Southeast Asia. Mostly of small size, a number of Ganesha bronze images are known from Java, and some rather spectacular stone sculptures commanded prime positions in early Javanese temples. Height 35cm. BODHISATTVA LOKESHVARA.
BODHISATTVA LOKESHVARA.
Khmer. Ca. 10th c.

Bronze with reddish and green patina. Four arms, standing on a square base plate. The hair put up elegantly and adorned with jewels, the ears with large earrings. At the hips a sampot from a sheer fine fabric and secured with a belt.

The jewel-like temple of Banteay Srei, some 40 kilometers north of Angkor Thom was, unlike most other temples in Angkor, not a royal foundation. A consecration inscription, dated 967/968, credits Yajnyavaraha, a Brahmin and royal guru to the future King Jayavarman V, with its construction. Only a handful of bronzes can firmly be attributed to this style which is considered to be one of the most refined of Angkorian sculpture; less than twenty stone sculptures of this style are published. The fragmentary Bodhisattva Lokeshvara from Tuol Chi Thep, now in the Musée Guimet, Paris (see literature), is arguably one of the finest stone sculptures of the Banteay Srei period.

This remarkable bronze sculpture, depicting the Bodhisattva Lokeshvara, is closely related to the Tuol Chi Thep image. The sculpture is exquisitely modeled, with a sense of sublime realism that is the magic of Banteay Srei works. The volumes of the muscular body are well balanced and the powerful chest seems to be filled with the dynamic energy of the inner prana. Separately modeled attributes, possibly in precious metal, and now lost, were fitted into the four hands. The coiffure is a typical 10th century style jatamukuta, which originally probably included a tiny seated Amithaba Buddha.

Its sculptural finesse and rarity make this delightful bronze Lokeshvara an important addition to the small body of known Banteay Srei style sculptures. Height 37.7cm. Condition A/B. Supplement: On a base. Fitting storage box.

BODHISATTVA MAITREYA.
BODHISATTVA MAITREYA.
Gandhara. 2th/3th c.

His long pleated robe wraps elegantly around his body and shoulders in cascading folds reminiscent of the Greco-Roman influence, while his underskirt is slightly visible around his lower legs. The simple monastic robe draping his powerful body contrasts superbly with the lavish ornaments on the Bodhisattva's chest, ears and in his elegant, wavy hairdo. Three small holes under the arms and between the feet indicate that the sculpture was originally fixed into a niche or on a wall.

While numerous Bodhisattva images are known of the Gandharan period, only few depict the extraordinarily sublime realism and finesse of this delightful sculpture. Height 52cm. Condition B.

IMPRESSIVE LARGE FIGURE OF THE ENLIGHTENED BUDDHA.

BEEINDRUCKEND GROSSE FIGUR DES ERLEUCHTETEN BUDDHA.

Myanmar/Burma. Mandalay. Dated 1876.

Bronze with traces of gilding and lacquer. Height 114cm. Condition A/B. This life-size bronze sculpture depicts Buddha Shakyamuni in the moment before his Enlightenment. After defeating the fierce assaults of the armies of Mara, god of death and desire, and resisting the seductions of Mara's sensuous daughters, Shakyamuni's right hand touches the earth (bhumisparsha mudra) to call her as witness to his victory.

The origins of this image can be traced back to a famous Buddha sculpture in the Mahabodhi temple at Bodhgaya. By the 11th century, Bodhgaya had become the most important site for Buddhists in India. After all, this was the place where Buddha Shakyamuni experienced enlightenment.

The great King Aniruddha of Pagan (ruled 1044-1077), a devoted Buddhist, so admired the Mahabodhi temple, that he had his royal seals engraved with an image of this temple. In the early 13th century a temple was founded in Pagan that closely resembles the temple in Bodhgaya. Aniruddha also commissioned numerous stone and bronze images of the Buddha, many of them in bhumisparsha mudra. Stylistically these 11th century sculptures closely follow their Bodhgaya models. Henceforth this image became one of the most popular depictions of Buddha in Burma and throughout Southeast Asia.

The Burmese Buddhists follow the Theravada tradition. "Relics, their finding, propagation and use, became a constant feature of later Theravada Buddhism in Southeast Asia. The desire for primary texts, correctly ordained monks and Buddha relics is based on the notion that the validity and effectiveness of the relic objects, teachings and monks are determined by how 'close' they are to the historical Buddha. This search, then, for pure and true texts, monks and relics, initiated primarily under Aniruddha's reign, became characteristic of Burmese and Thai Buddhism" (1).

Robert Brown (2) recounts how important Bodhgaya remained for Burmese Buddhists until the 19th century: "In 1830 the king of Burma sent a diplomatic mission to India, then governed by the British who had successfully waged several military campaignsin Burma. The delegation remained in India for three years, during which they visited Bodhgaya, discovering the Burmese inscription of the thirteenth-century Burmese mission., witnessing a miracle and taking several sprouts from the bodhi tree. Later inCalcutta they requested a Pala period sculpture of the Buddha from Bodhgaya. The mission returned to Burma having failed to negotiate a favourable political agreement with the British, but the mission was considered a great success by the Burmese becausethey returned with the tree cuttings and the Buddha image".

Soon afterwards, in 1857, the rulers of the Konbaung dynasty established the new capital of Burma in Mandalay. Its founder, King Mindon (ruled 1853 - 1878) was a pious royal patron of the highest order. A treatise upon royal administration since 1044singles out only seven monarchs over an 800 year period as "having distinguished themselves to an exceptional degree by truly following their kingly duty of supporting and promoting Buddhism" (3). King Mindon was amongst the selected.

This supremely beautiful bronze sculpture is dated by an inscription on the front of its base to the last years of King Mindon's reign: "We make reverent offering of the image of Buddha of copper. This is the work of merit of U Yan Htar and Ma Baung, [in the] year 1876" (4). We do not have any information on the donors, but the superlative quality of this bronze suggests that it was produced in a royal workshop.

Japanese Arts and Crafts

From the Meiji era (1868–1912)

When in the 19th c. Japan opened up to the world again after more than 200 years of isolation, this had astonishing effects. On the one hand in Japan, which was getting ready to claim its rightful place among the other states of the world; and on the other hand in the West, which celebrated the exotic beauty of Japan and the East.
Cautiously, and initially with only a few objects, the country presented itself at the early world fairs. The strange and charming items were met with great enthusiasm. Collectors and museums competed for pieces for their collections. One was enchanted by the fineness and aesthetics of the works. The artisans were showered with awards. Back in Japan, the workshops responded to the demand.

In Japan, working processes were already early divided into smaller sections, which were performed by specialised artisans. The pride of each artisan lies in performing his part with the greatest possible precision. The finished product is then carefully examined by the workshop manager, as to ensure that only the best examples are delivered to the customers.
Innovations and improvements are always adopted and integrated into the work process. It is a Japanese particularity that - after some time - innovations acquire a Japanese touch, making them seem like they naturally and originally belong there. Moreover, the Japanese are willing to quickly adapt to new conditions.

Even before the Meiji era, the Japanese government and non-governmental bodies had invited Western scientists and experts to pass on their knowledge in the country. An interesting example of how external impulses and Western knowledge were integrated, developed, and brought to perfection is enamel art. Cloisonné was already known from Chinese pieces imported before the Edo period (1603-1868). They were called 'shippô', 'seven treasures', after those mentioned in Buddhist writings. These also include gold, silver, coral, glass, and pearls. Yet, it was not until the 19th c. that Japan began to engage in Cloisonné on a broader scale. Gottfried Wagener (1831-92), a German scientist hired by the Meiji government, contributed to further refining this art. He founded a workshop and trained Japanese artisans.

A known Japanese master, who developed new techniques and stunned with his designs, was Namikawa Sôsuke (1847-1919). Owing to his skill and considerable reputation, he was appointed artisan to the court by Emperor Meiji as early as 1896. One of his significant inventions was to remove the separators in between the colors during the process, increasing an impression of painting (cat. no. 2217). This technique was also used by other artisans, like at the Andô Cloisonné Company (cat. No. 2215) in Nagoya, which was founded in 1880. This workshop was also honored by the emperor - since around 1900 it supplied imperial gifts.

Known and performed early on was the decoration of cast metal works with molten glass, known as Champlevé (shippô zogan). In the metal grooves were cut for the molten glass. The large moon-shaped vase (cat. no. 2221) was made using this technique. Bronze casting and the treating of surfaces with various acids and lyes to produce artful shades of patina became a pinnacle of craftsmanship during the Meiji era. Several censers are featured in this auction - some surprisingly large and rich in detail (cat. no. 2218-2220).
Ivory carving also became an important material of art during the Meiji era. Although netsuke were already collected in the West, they were small and tended to get lost in the jumble of countless knickknacks in the pompous decorations of late 19th c. Western living rooms. In Japan, the response was the invention of 'okimono' - objects to display. The okimono no longer had a function like the netsuke used to have, which becomes apparent in their lack of cord runners (himotoshi). They were purely ornamental and could be much larger than netsuke (cat. no. 2200). But other objects were made from ivory as well. Inspired by the design of brush pots made for export in Canton, China, yet far more sophisticated, is the impressive section of a tusk (cat. no. 2199), the intricate carvings of which display a crowded celebration at a shrine in great detail. Another exceptional format is the bipartite screen (cat. no. 2197) - even though screens certainly had a traditional place in Japanese rooms they were neither of this size nor decorated with ivory. The flowers in the traditional motifs are carved in remarkably high and fragile relief from ivory and are in skilful contrast to the empty surface.

The Meiji era objects convey the enthusiasm and optimistic mood of the time. Some are awe-inspiring in their perfectionism, others testify to the exciting processes of trial and learning. In the 19th and early 20th c., Japan became an icon of Eastern exoticism and artisanal skill in the Western world.

Als Japan sich im 19. Jh. nach mehr als 200 Jahren Abschottung der Welt wieder öffnete, hatte dies erstaunliche Wirkungen. Einerseits in Japan, das sich bereit machte, einen gleichwertigen Platz unter den Staaten der Welt einzunehmen, andererseits im Westen, der die exotische Schönheit Japans und des Ostens feierte.
Zaghaft und anfangs mit wenigen Objekten präsentierte sich das Land auf den frühen Weltausstellungen. Die fremden und bezaubernden Dinge wurden mit großer Begeisterung aufgenommen. Sammler und Museen rissen sich darum, Stücke für ihre Sammlung zu kaufen. Man war von der Feinheit und Ästhetik der Arbeiten begeistert. Die Kunsthandwerker wurden mit Preisen überhäuft. Zurück in Japan reagierten die Werkstätten auf die Nachfrage.

In Japan wurden Arbeitsprozesse im Werkstätten schon früh in kleinere Abschnitte aufgeteilt, die von speziellen Handwerkern ausgeführt werden. Der Stolz jeden Handwerkers liegt darin, seinen Teil in größtmöglicher Perfektion auszuführen. Das fertige Produkt wird abschließend durch den Werkstattleiter streng geprüft, um auch nur wirklich die besten Stücke an die Kunden zu liefern.
Neuerungen und Verbesserung werden immer aufgenommen und in den Arbeitsprozess integriert. Eine japanische Besonderheit ist dabei, dass Neuerungen nach einiger Zeit eine japanische Prägung bekommen, dass sie als etwas erscheinen, was ganz natürlich und ursprünglich dazu gehört. Zudem ist man in Japan in der Lage, sich schnell an neue Gegebenheiten anzupassen.

Schon vor der Meiji-Zeit waren von der japanischen Regierung und außerstaatlichen Stellen westliche Wissenschaftler und Experten eingeladen worden, ihre Kenntnisse im Land weiter zu geben. Ein interessantes Beispiel dafür, wie äußere Anstöße und westliches Wissen integriert, weiterentwickelt und auf die Spitze getrieben wurden, findet sich in Arbeiten der Email-Kunst. Cloisonné war bereits von importierten chinesischen Werkstücken vor der Edo-Zeit (1603-1868) bekannt. Man nannte die Arbeiten 'shippô', wörtlich 'Sieben Schätze', nach jenen, die in buddhistischen Schriften aufgezählt werden. Dazu gehören außer Gold, Silber und Koralle auch Glas und Perlen. Aber erst im frühen 19. Jh. begann man sich in Japan mit Cloisonné intensiver zu beschäftigen. Gottfried Wagener (1831-92), ein deutscher Wissenschaftler, angestellt von der Meiji-Regierung, trug dazu bei, die Kunst weiter zu verfeinern. Er gründete eine Werkstatt und bildete japanische Kunsthandwerker aus.
Ein bekannter japanischer Meister, der neue Techniken entwickelte und auch mit seinen Entwürfen erstaunte, war Namikawa Sôsuke (1847-1919). Aufgrund seiner Fähigkeiten und seiner großen Reputation wurde er bereits 1896 vom Meiji-Kaiser zum kaiserlichen Handwerker ernannt. Eine seiner großen Erfindungen war, die Trennstege zwischen den Farben im Laufe des Prozesses zu entfernen, so dass verstärkt der Eindruck einer Malerei entstand (Kat. Nr. 2217). Diese Technik wurden ebenso von anderen Handwerkern eingesetzt, wie in der 1880 gegründeten Werkstatt Andô Cloisonné Company (Kat. Nr. 2215) in Nagoya. Auch diese Werkstatt wurde vom Kaiser hervorgehoben und zwar stammen von dort ab ca. 1900 kaiserliche Geschenke.

Bereits früher bekannt und eingesetzt ist die Dekoration von Metallgussarbeiten mit geschmolzenem Glas, bekannt als Champlevé (jap. shippô zogan). In der dickeren Wandung wurden Gruben für das geschmolzene Glas ausgehoben. Die große Vase in Mondform (Kat. Nr. 2221) ist in dieser Technik ausgeführt. Der Guss von Bronzen und die Oberflächenbehandlung mit verschiedenen Säuren und Laugen, um raffinierte Patinatöne hervorzurufen, wurde in der Meiji-Zeit zu einem Höhepunkt des Kunsthandwerks entwickelt. In der Auktion finden sich mehrere, teils erstaunlich groß dimensionierte und detailreich gestaltete Weihrauchbrenner (Kat. Nr. 2218-2220). Dabei dienten teils chinesische Vorbilder als Inspiration, doch der japanische Stil wird in der Gestaltung deutlich.

In der Meiji-Zeit wurde die Schnitzerei mit Elfenbein zu einem wichtigen Gebiet. Netsuke wurden schon länger im Westen gesammelt, aber in der pompösen Gestaltung der westlichen Wohnräume im späten 19. Jh. dekoriert mit zahllosen Nippes waren sie doch recht klein und gingen in dem gefüllten Durcheinander eher unter. In Japan reagierte man mit der Erfindung des 'okimono', wörtlich 'Ding zum Hinstellen'. Diese okimono hatten nicht mehr eine Funktion, wie einst die netsuke, was an den bei den okimono fehlenden Schnurdurchzuglöchern (himotoshi) erkennbar ist. Sie waren reine Zierstücke und konnten bedeutend größer sein als netsuke (Kat. Nr. 2200). Aber auch andere Objekte wurden aus Elfenbein hergestellt. An die Gestaltung der in Kanton, China für den Export hergestellten Pinselbecher angelehnt, aber ungleich raffinierter gestaltet, ist der imposante Stoßzahnabschnitt (Kat. Nr. 2219), der mit dem dichten Treiben bei einem Schreinfest detailreich beschnitzt ist. Ein weiteres, ungewöhnliches Format ist der zweiteilige Stellschirm (Kat. Nr. 2197). Wobei Stellschirme durchaus einen traditionellen Platz im japanischen Wohnraum haben, allerdings weder in dieser Größe, noch mit einer Dekoration mit Elfenbein. Die Blüten der Motive im traditionellen Stil sind in erstaunlich hohem und fragilem Relief aus Elfenbein geschnitzt und sitzen in gekonntem Kontrast zur freien Fläche.

Die Objekte aus der Meiji-Zeit vermitteln die Begeisterung und Aufbruchsstimmung der Ära. Manche machen uns in ihrem Perfektionismus staunen, andere zeigen die spannenden Prozesse des Ausprobierens und Lernen. Im Westen wurde Japan im 19. und zu Beginn des 20. Jh. Sinnbild für Exotik und kunsthandwerklichem Können des Ostens.

COAST WITH BOATS (ISOBUNE).
KÜSTE MIT BOOTEN (ISOBUNE).

Japan. Ink and color on silk. 46 x 39.5cm. In the foreground a cliff with closely standing pine trees with the open sea in the background. At the flat shore, some fishermen bring their boats to the water. The pink-colored sky and the calm sea suggest the morning silence before the fischermen start their work.

In the painter's usual manner, the characteristic landscape of Japan is in the focus, in which man fits in naturally. The soft brown, blue and green tones as well as the partly flowing color transition emphasize the calm and nostalgia, which the motif suggests. Sign.: Gyokudô (on the painting). On the back of the frame the title 'Isobune' and signed Gyokudô. Seal: Gyokudô (on front and back each). Condition A/B. Supplement: Framed behind glass, with passe-partout.

SCHNEEHAUBE (KANSETSU).

Japan. Colors on paper. 53.5 x 40cm. A snow-covered twig is rising into the ice-blue sky and a small bird flies through the falling snow. This creativity and dynamic is additionally emphasized by the fresh color contrast with the white and the shining blue-green. Sign.: Shôkô (on the painting). NETSUKE: SITZENDER KIRIN.
Japan. Edo-Zeit. 18. Jh.

Mächtiges Kirin (Einhorn) sitzend, den Kopf rückwärts gewandt, konzentriert gen Himmel schauend mit leicht geöffnetem Maul, in dem die frei geschnitzte Zunge mit aufwärts zeigender Spitze zu sehen ist, ebenso die gebogenen Eckzähne im Oberkiefer, welche die beiden kurzen, spitzen Mittelzähne des Unterkiefers umrahmen. Das Horn arttypisch zurückgebogen bis auf die Mähne, nicht zum Stoßen geeignet und mit weicher Spitze, weil das tugendhafte Kirin keinem Wesen Leid zufügt. Die elegante Mähne fällt in kleinen Locken und Strähnen auf den Rücken bis zu den bewegt lodernden Flammen, die zum Zeichen seiner himmlischen Herkunft aus den Schultergelenken lodern. Kleinere Flämmchen entspringen den vorderen Kniegelenken. Den Rücken hinauf bis zur Mähne führt ein prachtvoller Schwanz in plastischer Fülle aus seitengleich angeordneten Locken, im Wechsel mit Strähnen und zweimal durchbrochen. Alle Locken und Flammen sind äußerst lebendig und bewegt dargestellt, Der Körper ist sonst glatt mit leicht angedeuteten Muskeln, segmentiertem Hals und einigen sichtbaren Rückenwirbeln. Die Hufe sind hoch und kräftig, dicht beisammen gestellt, einer angewinkelt, da das Fabelwesen mehr flog als lief, so leicht, dass es keinen Halm krümmte oder Lebewesen zertrat, nur die ihm nachgesagten leichten Spuren im Schnee hinterlassend. Dieses in Japan ranghöchste aller Fabeltiere ist von dem namenlosen Kyôto-Schnitzer mit aller Pracht, Schönheit, Würde und Majestät ausgestattet worden, die bei seinen seltenen Besuchen auf Erden solche Tugenden eines gerade regierenden großen, idealen Herrschers aufzeigen sollten. Elfenbein mit wunderschöner, gold-gelber Gebrauchspatina. Komposition, Haltung und Details lassen darauf schließen, dass dieses Stück vom selben Schnitzer stammt wie das sog. „Meinertzhagen-Kirin“, vgl. MCI, Farbtafel Seite V. Der große Farbunterschied zwischen Vorder- und Rückseite bestätigt die ausgiebige Nutzung, denn die - der Sonne nicht ausgesetzte - Rückseite hat eine wunderschöne, goldgelbe, stellenweise bernsteinfarbene, changierende und teils transparent glänzende Oberfläche, während die deutlich hellere Vorderseite offenbar der bleichenden Sonne ausgesetzt war. H.9cm. Zustand A.

NETSUKE: SITTING KIRIN.
Japan. Edo period. 18. c. Kyôto.

Powerful Kirin (unicorn), seated with its head turned back, gazing at the sky. The mouth slightly open, showing its carved, completely free, upturned tongue, and curved corner teeth in the upper jaw framing short, pointed middle teeth in the lower jaw. The horn, as typical for the species, is bent back onto the mane, since having a soft tip it is not used for thrusting, because the virtuous Kirin will harm no creature. The elegant mane with tight curls and strands reaches halfway down the back to where flames blaze horizontally from its shoulders as signs of its celestial provenance. Tiny flames also issue from the foreleg-knees. An impressive large tail reaches up its back, curls and strands of hair alternating symmetrically up either side of the spine, with openwork twice showing the Kirin's back. All the locks and flames are shown in lively movement. The body is otherwise smooth and hairless, with a few muscles, a segmented neck, and a few vertebrae showing. Its four strong hooves are held together, one slightly raised, since this mythical creature flew rather than ran, so lightly that it could neither bend a blade of grass nor hurt even the tiniest creature, and said to leave only the slightest trace in snow. The unknown Kyôto-carver has endowed this highest-ranking mythical animal of Japan with all the power, beauty, dignity, and majesty which on its rare visits to earth were to reflect and extol the great virtues and power of a great ruler then in office. Ivory, with beautiful golden-yellow in parts amber patina. The marked difference in color between the front and back proves it was worn a lot: the back - not being exposed to sunlight - has a wonderful iridescent and partly transparently shiny surface, while the much paler front was evidently exposed to the bleaching sun. Composition, pose, and details suggest this piece was carved by the same artist as the “Meinertzhagen-Kirin”, cf. MCI, color plate Vol. I, p.V. H.9cm. Condition A.

NETSUKE: ONI.
Japan. Edo-Zeit. Mitte 18. Jh.

Muskulöser Oni, hockend mit entschlossenem Gesichtsausdruck und mehrfach gegen Teufelsjäger gewappnet: Er trägt Shôki's Riedgrashut, dessen breite, wellige Krempe umlaufend mit drei feinen Ornamentbändern geschmückt, über dem linken Auge aber eingekerbt und kaputt ist. Vielleicht hat er ihn entsorgt gefunden? Der Hut birgt eine Überraschung: Unter dem herausnehmbaren glatten Mittelteil ist als Öse das zweite Himotoshi versteckt. Er hält zur Abwehr auch Daikoku's Hammer mit beiden Händen vor seinen Bauch. Ein langer Fellumhang soll ihn unsichtbar machen und bedeckt seinen Rücken, fein graviert und getönt. Sein Schutz wird durch eindrucksvolle Muskeln und Krallen vervollständigt: Stämmige Beine, das rechte untergeschlagen, beide mit doppelten Schmuckreifen - wie am Handgelenk - über den mit mächtigen Klauen bewehrten Füßen. Gebiss und Reißzähne sind gefletscht und in feinen Details geschnitzt. Dieser Oni wird sich gewiss nicht fangen lassen! Buchsbaum, detailliert geschnitzt, graviert und dunkel eingefärbt. NETSUKE: ONI.
Japan. Edo period. Mid 18th c.

Muscular Oni, squatting with a fierce expression, armed manifoldly against demon-quellers. He is wearing Shôki's broad-rimmed sedge hat, with a wavy rim circled by three fine ornamental bands, yet broken, a piece is missing above the Oni's right eye. Maybe he found it, discarded? The hat harbours a surprise: If prised open, the top reveals the second himotoshi inside as a carved loop. For additional protection, Oni is clutching Daikoku's mallet across his body with both hands. A long-haired fur cloak of invisibility covers his back, engraved and stained in fine detail. His protection is completed by his impressive muscles: His legs are truly sturdy, the right one folded under, both ankles circled with two decorative hoops each - as is the wrist - above strong feet armed with awesome claws. Teeth and fangs are bared snarling, carved in meticulous detail. This Oni is not going to get caught, if he can help it. Boxwood, finely carved and engraved, with darker staining. In der rechten Hand bei angewinkelt hochgezogenem Arm ein blankes Tachi haltend, die linke Hand angespannt in der als aragato bekannten Geste der Herausforderung. Der Kopf ist nach links gewandt, mit grimmigem Gesichtsausdruck. Warrior, standing with bare torso, as his cloak slipped off his shoulders, billowing over his loincloth, and wearing tabi on his feet. In his right hand he holds a bared tachi, his arm drawn up at an angle, and his head turned to the left with an angry expression on his face. His left hand is tensed in the gesture of defiance known as aragato. Boxwood, boldly carved and engraved, with a fine, shiny patina, and with inlaid black eyes. Signed on the back of the left leg: Tomotane. According to MCI, p. 921, it might be a carver born 1781 in Kyôto and mentioned in the Soken Kisho, yet there is another carver of that name, though only known for ivory work. The piece may even be by a third carver of the same name, but Soken Kisho seems to refer to our piece which was made around 1800. Some traces of wear. H.9,1cm. Condition A/B. Marines Elfenbein mit wunderschön glasiger Oberfläche, die eine warme, sehr gute, teils glänzende natürliche Patina hat. Das lange, gebogene Netsuke steht auf den kleinen Füßen im Gleichgewicht. Kensu wird meist mit einer Garnele auf der Schulter dargestellt, aber laut Koji Hoten, II, S.171f. „Pieuvre", hat er als Sennin manchmal einen Oktopus. Rare and grandiose ivory figure of a tall Dutch sailor, wearing a "pantalon á pont" as designed in 17th century France and typical garb for sailors. Elfenbein, kräftig geschnitzt und poliert, die teils lockigen Haarsträhnen fein graviert und dunkel akzentuiert, die Pupillen eingelegt aus dunklem Horn. Auf rechteckiger, gerundeter Reserve signiert: Mitsuharu. Vgl. MCI, S. 532, der dort ein ähnliches Modell eines Kyôto-Künstlers zeigt, allerdings nicht von der runden, plastischen Kraft und Qualität in den Details wie das hier angebotene; immerhin erwähnt er unter den acht Stücken dieses Soken Kisho Künstlers zwei Karashishi mit Ball, wohl eines könnte unseres hier sein. Die gezeigten Signaturen mitsamt ihren Kartuschen sind alle von einander abweichend. Im Katalog „Netsuke & Sagemono" zur Kölner Ausstellung im MOA unter Nr. 149, S. 96 ist ein sehr ähnliches Modell abgebildet, das Alain Ducros jedoch Gechu zuschreibt wegen der sechs Klauen pro Tatze, aber die Ähnlichkeit von Position und Details der Ausführung mit diesem Stück hier ist frappierend. NETSUKE: SHISHI WITH BALL.
Japan. Edo period. Mid 18th c.

Powerful Shishi sitting upright, its head turned, mouth open and snarling. It is holding a huge ball with both impressively strong front-paws and its right hind-paw. Ivory, boldly carved and polished, beautiful, heavy mane-curls with dark accents, pupils inlaid in black horn. Signed on rounded rectangular reserve: Mitsuharu, cf. MCI, p. 532, illustrated there with a similar model by this Kyôto artist, though in comparison it shows less overall plastic strength and quality of details. But Meinertzhagen does mention two Karashishi with a ball among his eight pieces by this Soken Kisho carver, one of which may well be our piece. The signatures and reserves he shows are all different. The Catalogue of the Cologne Netsuke Convention 2017, "Netsuke & Sagemono", no.149, p.96, shows a very similar, though unsigned netsuke, which however Alain Ducros attributes to Gechu because it has six claws per paw. Even though, the similarity of posture and details of design with our piece are striking, and I am tempted to believe that Mitsuharu is a more likely artist. H.5cm. Condition A.

The Hakutaku can speak and discern anything evil, creatures or thoughts, and pounces on them, destroying them. Which is what our Hakutaku appears to have just done, with an exclamation or comment, judging by its open mouth. A long, almost straight mane surrounds its shoulders. Its tail is composed of whirls of curls and sideward whisps of hair, finely engraved, and stained dark. Ivory. Boldly carved, engraved, with dark staining, in parts softly polished from long wear. VAN HAM hat in diesem Frühjahr das Format der Online-Auktionen erfolgreich etabliert und ergänzt das traditionelle Auktionsprogramm nun mit kuratierten Online Sales, die für einen Zeitraum von ca. 14 Tagen fürs Bieten freigeschaltet sind. Mit einer unkomplizierten Registrierung und einem speziellen Rückgaberecht garantieren wir dabei einfaches und sicheres Mitsteigern. Die Online-Kataloge enthalten aussagekräftige Abbildungen, detaillierte Lot-Beschreibungen sowie Zustandsberichte und Versandkosten (s.u.).

Den Auftakt machte im April eine Offerte mit ausgewählten Grafiken aus dem Bereich der deutschen und internationalen Nachkriegskunst, die auf überaus großes Interesse stieß. Über 800 registrierte Bieter steigerten im Netz die Verkaufsquote auf mehr als 120% nach Wert. Die erfolgreiche Premiere wurde nur wenige Wochen später mit der Online-Auktion German Post War fortgesetzt.

Die erfreulichen Ergebnisse bestärken VAN HAM in der Entscheidung, auch den Bereich der Online-Auktionen fest im Programm des Hauses zu integrieren. Mit Startgeboten, die schon im unteren dreistelligen Bereich beginnen, bieten die Online-Auktionen auch jungen Sammlern und Einsteigern die Möglichkeit ihr eigenes Kunstwerk online zu kaufen.

- Conceptual Art
- Contemporary Editions
- documenta-Artists
- Editions
- Informel
- Outsider Art
- Photography
- Pop-Art
- Zeichnungen der Romantik

Über die genauen Termine informieren wir Sie per Newsletter, für den sie sich schnell und einfach auf www.van-ham.com registrieren können.

Professionelles Management von Künstlernachlässen

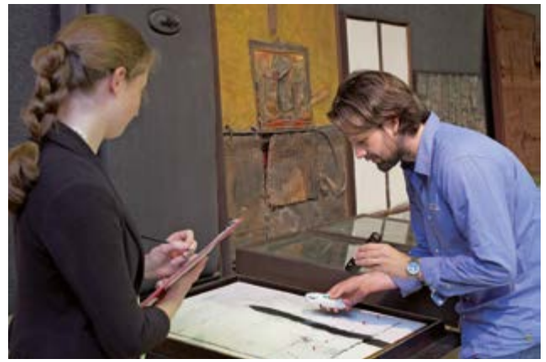
ART ESTATE

Impressionen aus unserem Archiv



Bei der Verwaltung und Vermarktung künstlerischer Nachlässe ist ein kompetenter Partner unverzichtbar. VAN HAM bietet mit der Gründung von VAN HAM Art Estate eine umfassende Betreuung, die auf der langjährigen Erfahrung im Kunsthandel und dem traditionell großen, wissenschaftlichen Engagement beruht. Das richtige Management eines Künstlers, auch posthum, entscheidet über dessen öffentliche Präsenz und damit über seine Reputation und seinen Stellenwert auf dem Kunstmarkt.

Als Kunstauktionshaus besitzt VAN HAM entscheidende Vorteile: eine dominante Marktstellung, eingehende Fachkenntnisse, eine prominente Medienpräsenz, auflagenstarke Publikationen, eine eigene PR-Abteilung, einen modernen Internetauftritt sowie eine entsprechende Logistik mit ausreichend Lagerkapazitäten für die Kunstwerke und Archiv-Dokumente. Die Schlüsselqualifikationen von VAN HAM Art Estate liegen durch die jahrelange Erfahrung als Auktionshaus auf der Hand: Sichten, Bewerten, Aufarbeiten, Bewerben und Vermarkten.VAN HAM ist das einzige deutsche Auktionshaus, das maßgebliche Werkverzeichnisse zu international bekannten Künstlern wie Fritz Klimsch, Franz Roubaud und Karl Hofer publiziert hat. Zudem wurde 2012 das Karl Hofer Archiv übernommen und das Karl Hofer Komitee gegründet. Auch der gesamte künstlerische und dokumentarische Nachlass der Becher-Schülerin Tata Ronkholz wird von VAN HAM betreut.

VAN HAM Art Estate sieht es als seine Aufgabe an, die öffentliche Präsenz eines Künstlers durch die Nachlassverwaltung zu stärken und auszubauen: nicht nur durch Auktionen, sondern auch durch Leihverkehr mit Museen und Zusammenarbeit mit Galerien, um dadurch seine öffentliche Wahrnehmung und Position auf dem Markt zu steigern. Den Verkauf und Leihverkehr von Kunstwerken organisiert VAN HAM Art Estate, denn auch hier bedarf es Experten mit dem entsprechenden Wissen, sowie eines ausgebildeten Netzwerks mit Kuratoren, Restauratoren, Galeristen und Sammlern. Für die wissenschaftliche Arbeit ist VAN HAM Art Estate durch die Nutzung der Software HIDA, entwickelt von Foto Marburg und der Volkswagen-Stiftung, zur Archivierung von Museumsbeständen, dem Kölner Museumsverbund angeschlossen. Durch das Engagement von VAN HAM Art Estate kam die Kooperation mit der bundesgeförderten gemeinnützigen Stiftung Kunstfonds in Brauweiler zustande. Die Stiftung betreibt ein Archiv für Künstlernachlässe, um sie für Ausstellungsprojekte und die kunsthistorische Forschung anzubieten. Die Zusammenarbeit zwischen VAN HAM und der Stiftung Kunstfonds bildet eine einmalige Schnittstelle zwischen wissenschaftlicher Arbeit und Kunsthandel.

In vielen Fällen fehlt bei den nachfolgenden Generationen das Wissen, wie die Präsenz des verstorbenen Künstlers angemessen bewahrt wird. Mit den Stärken von VAN HAM Art Estate hingegen werden künstlerische Nachlässe professionell gemanagt, so dass die Bedeutung des Künstlers und dessen Werk hochgehalten wird.

Commission/telephone bids
Please note that written or faxed bids or bids via our online catalogue must be received at least 24 hours before the auction commences. Otherwise we will not be able to warrant consideration. On lots with estimates exceeding € 500 you are also able to bid by telephone.

Offer for sale and auctioning
The objects listed in the catalogue will be offered for sale approximately 20 % below the estimated price i.e. usually below the reserve. Auctioning will progress in max. 10 %-steps; the auctioneer reserves the right to deviations.

Buyers premium
For objects sold under the margin scheme a buyers premium of 28 % on the first € 250,000 and 25 % on all monies in excess thereof including VAT will be added on the bid award. Lots marked with * will be sold with VAT and are calculated in line with standard taxation, i.e. statutory turnover tax is levied on the bid price plus 24 % premium on the first € 250,000 and 21 % on all monies in excess thereof. VAT currently amounts to 19 %. Dealers who are entitled to prior-tax deduction generally have the option of regular taxation. We kindly request these dealers to inform us before invoicing.

Acquisition from third countries
Objects, that have been imported from outside the EU to be sold at auction under Temporary Admission, marked with “N”. When VAN HAM releases such property to the buyer, he/she will become the importer and must pay VAN HAM’s import VAT of currently 7 % to VAN HAM. These lots will be invoiced under the margin scheme and are thus offered under on-charging the import VAT as apportionment in the amount of 8 %. By the recharging of the import sales tax the buyer’s premium increases to 36 % for the first € 250,000 and to 33 % for the exceeding amount. The import sales tax as such is not separately identified. Upon request immediately after the auction the invoice for these objects can be made out with regular taxation. The value added tax can then entitle to deduct pre-tax or be refunded with an export certificate for a third country.

Artist’s Resale Right
In accordance with § 26 of the German Copyright Law / UrhG VAN HAM is legally obligated to pay droit de suite (artist’s resale right) on all original works of art as well as original photographic works, whose authors have not been deceased at least 70 years before the end of the legal year of purchase. The buyer is currently required to contribute 1.5 % of the hammer price for this purpose.

Payment
Purchases must be paid in cash, by cheque or EC card during the auction resp. two weeks after invoicing at the latest. Invoices made during or immediately after the auction are subject to review and may be corrected.

Pick-up
Paid objects may be picked up during the auction. In case of pick-up at a later date, we kindly request notification in order to avoid waiting times. Objects not picked up three weeks after invoicing at the latest may be stored at the purchaser’s expenses.

Allgemeine Geschäftsbedingungen

V1. Versteigerung

V1.1 VAN HAM Kunstauktionen GmbH & Co. KG (nachfolgend VAN HAM) versteigert in einer öffentlichen Versteigerung gemäß §§ 474 Abs.1 Satz 2, 383 Abs. 3 Satz 1 BGB als Kommissionär im eigenen Namen und für Rechnung der Auftraggeber, die unbenannt bleiben.

V1.2 Die zur Versteigerung kommenden Gegenstände können vor der Versteigerung besichtigt und geprüft werden. Dabei haften die Kunden für von ihnen verursachte Schäden an den ausgestellten Objekten.

V2. Beschaffenheit, Gewährleistung

V2.1 Die zur Versteigerung gelangenden und im Rahmen der Vorbesichtigung prüfbaren und zu besichtigenden Gegenstände sind ausnahmslos gebraucht. Sie haben einen ihrem Alter und ihrer Provenienz entsprechenden Erhaltungszustand. Beanstandungen des Erhaltungszustandes werden im Katalog nur erwähnt, wenn sie nach Auffassung von VAN HAM den optischen Gesamteindruck des Gegenstandes maßgeblich beeinträchtigen. Das Fehlen von Angaben zum Erhaltungszustand hat damit keinerlei Erklärungswirkung und begründet insbesondere keine Garantie oder Beschaffenheitsvereinbarung im kaufrechtlichen Sinne. Kunden können einen Zustandsbericht für jeden Gegenstand vor der Auktion anfordern. Dieser Bericht, mündlich oder in Schriftform, enthält keine abweichende Individualabrede und bringt lediglich eine subjektive Einschätzung von VAN HAM zum Ausdruck. Die Angaben im Zustandsbericht werden nach bestem Wissen und Gewissen erteilt. Sie sind keine Garantien oder Beschaffenheitsvereinbarungen und dienen ausschließlich der unverbindlichen Information. Gleiches gilt für Auskünfte jedweder Art, sei es mündlich oder schriftlich. In allen Fällen ist der tatsächliche Erhaltungszustand des Gegenstands zum Zeitpunkt seines Zuschlages die vereinbarte Beschaffenheit im Sinne der gesetzlichen Bestimmungen (§§ 434ff BGB). Der Gegenstand wird verkauft, wie er zum Zeitpunkt der Versteigerung steht und liegt.

V2.2 Alle Angaben im Katalog beruhen auf den bis zum Zeitpunkt der Drucklegung veröffentlichten oder sonst allgemein zugänglichen wissenschaftlichen Erkenntnissen. Wird zusätzlich ein Internet-Katalog erstellt, sind dennoch die Angaben der gedruckten Fassung maßgeblich; nur in den Fällen, in denen kein gedruckter Katalog vorliegt, bzw. die Gegenstände im Rahmen einer sog. stillen Auktion versteigert werden, ist der Internetkatalog maßgeblich. VAN HAM behält sich vor, Katalogangaben über die zu versteigernden Gegenstände zu berichtigen. Diese Berichtigung erfolgt durch schriftlichen Aushang am Ort der Versteigerung und/oder mündlich durch den Auktionator unmittelbar vor der Versteigerung des einzelnen Gegenstandes. Die berichtigten Angaben treten an die Stelle der Katalogbeschreibung.

V2.3 Unabhängig von der Regelung unter Ziffer V2.1 sind Teil der mit dem Käufer vereinbarten Beschaffenheit nur diejenigen Katalogangaben, die sich auf die Urheberschaft des Gegenstandes beziehen. Eine besondere Garantie, aus der sich darüber hinausgehende Rechte (§§443, 477 BGB) ergeben, wird von VAN HAM nicht übernommen. Weitere Beschaffenheitsmerkmale als die Urheberschaft des Gegenstandes sind auch dann nicht vertraglich vereinbart, wenn der Gegenstand aus Gründen der Werbung herausgestellt wird. Der Katalog enthält insoweit nur Angaben und Beschreibungen, ohne dass damit eine Beschaffenheit vereinbart wird. Das gleiche gilt für die im Katalog befindlichen Abbildungen. Diese Abbildungen dienen dem Zweck, dem Interessenten eine Vorstellung von dem Gegenstand zu geben; sie sind weder Bestandteil der Beschaffenheitsvereinbarung noch eine Garantie für die Beschaffenheit. Im Rahmen der Auktion werden ausschließlich die jeweiligen Gegenstände, nicht jedoch die Rahmen, Passepartouts sowie Bildglas versteigert. Für Teile, die kein Bestandteil des versteigerten Gegenstandes sind, übernimmt VAN HAM keine Haftung.

V2.5 Weist der Käufer jedoch innerhalb eines Jahres nach Übergabe des Gegenstandes nach, dass Katalogangaben über die Urheberschaft des Gegenstandes unrichtig sind und nicht mit der anerkannten Meinung der Experten am Tag der Drucklegung übereinstimmten, verpflichtet sich VAN HAM unabhängig von Ziffer V2.4, seine Rechte gegenüber dem Auftraggeber geltend zu machen. Im Falle der erfolgreichen Inanspruchnahme des Auftraggebers erstattet VAN HAM dem Erwerber das von dem Auftraggeber selbst tatsächlich Erlangte bis maximal zur Höhe des gesamten Kaufpreises. Darüber hinaus verpflichtet sich VAN HAM für die Dauer von einem Jahr bei erwiesener Unechtheit zur Rückgabe der vollständigen Kommission. Voraussetzung ist jeweils, dass keine Ansprüche Dritter an dem Gegenstand bestehen und der Gegenstand am Sitz von VAN HAM in Köln in unverändertem Zustand zurückgegeben wird. Der Unrichtigkeitsnachweis gilt u.a. als geführt, wenn ein international anerkannter Experte für den im Katalog angegebenen Urheber die Aufnahme des Gegenstandes in das von ihm erstellte Werkverzeichnis („Catalogue Raisonné") verweigert.

V2.6 Schadensersatzansprüche gegen VAN HAM wegen Rechts- und Sachmängeln sowie aus sonstigen Rechtsgründen (inkl. Ersatz vergeblicher Aufwendungen, entgangenen Gewinn sowie Ersatz von Gutachterkosten) sind ausgeschlossen, soweit sie nicht auf vorsätzlichem oder grob fahrlässigem Handeln von VAN HAM oder auf der Verletzung wesentlicher Vertragspflichten durch VAN HAM beruhen.

V2.7 VAN HAM haftet nicht auf Schadensersatz (inkl. Ersatz vergeblicher Aufwendungen, entgangenen Gewinn oder dem Ersatz von Gutachterkosten) im Falle einfacher Fahrlässigkeit sowohl eigener als auch seiner Organe, gesetzlichen Vertreter, Angestellten oder sonstigen Erfüllungsgehilfen, soweit es sich nicht um eine Verletzung vertragswesentlicher Pflichten handelt. Vertragswesentlich sind die Verpflichtung zur Übergabe des Gegenstandes nach Eingang des vollständigen Verkaufspreises in dem Zustand in dem der Gegenstand zum Zeitpunkt der Versteigerung war, Angaben über die Urheberschaft des Gegenstandes sowie Beratungs-, Schutz- und Obhutspflichten, die den Schutz von Leib oder Leben des Kunden oder dessen Personal bezwecken.

V2.8 Die vorstehenden Haftungsausschlüsse und -beschränkungen gelten in gleichem Umfang zugunsten der Organe, gesetzlichen Vertreter, Angestellten und sonstigen Erfüllungsgehilfen von VAN HAM.

V2.9 Die Einschränkungen der Ziffern V2.6 und V2.7 gelten nicht für die Haftung von VAN HAM wegen vorsätzlichen Verhaltens, für garantierte Beschaffenheitsmerkmale, wegen Verletzung des Lebens, des Körpers oder der Gesundheit oder nach dem Produkthaftungsgesetz.

V2.10 Alle Ansprüche gegen VAN HAM verjähren ein Jahr nach Übergabe des zugeschlagenen Gegenstandes, soweit sie nicht auf einer vorsätzlichen Rechtsverletzung beruhen oder gesetzlich unabdingbare, längere Verjährungsfristen vorgegeben sind.

V3. Durchführung der Versteigerung, Gebote

V3.1 Die im Katalog angegebenen Schätzpreise sind keine Mindest- oder Höchstpreise, sondern dienen nur als Anhaltspunkt für den Verkehrswert der Gegenstände ohne Gewähr für die Richtigkeit. Andere Währungsangaben als Euro dienen lediglich der Information und sind unverbindlich. Gegenstände von geringem Wert können als Konvolute außerhalb des Katalogs versteigert werden.

V3.3 Alle Gebote gelten als vom Kunden im eigenen Namen und für eigene Rechnung abgegeben. Will ein Kunde Gebote im Namen eines Dritten abgeben, so hat er dies 24 Stunden vor Versteigerungsbeginn unter Nennung von Namen und Anschrift des Vertretenen und unter Vorlage einer schriftlichen Vollmacht mitzuteilen. Andernfalls kommt der Kaufvertrag bei Zuschlag mit dem bietenden Kunden zustande.

V3.4 Jeder Kunde erhält nach Vorlage eines gültigen Personaldokuments und Zulassung zur Auktion von VAN HAM eine Bieternummer. Nur unter dieser Nummer abgegebene Gebote werden auf der Auktion berücksichtigt.

V3.6 Bietet der Auftraggeber oder ein von diesem beauftragter Dritter auf selbst eingelieferte Ware und erhält den Zuschlag, so ist er jedem anderen Kunden gleichgestellt. Für den selbst bietenden Auftraggeber gelten die Bestimmungen der Versteigerungsbedingungen daher gleichermaßen.

V3.7 VAN HAM kann für den Auftraggeber bis zu einem Betrag unterhalb des Limits auf dessen eingeliefertes Los bieten, ohne dies offenzulegen und unabhängig davon, ob anderweitige Gebote abgegeben werden oder nicht.

V3.8 Der Preis bei Aufruf wird von Van HAM festgelegt; gesteigert wird im Regelfall um maximal 10 % des vorangegangenen Gebotes in Euro. Gebote können persönlich im Auktionssaal sowie bei Abwesenheit schriftlich, telefonisch oder mittels Internet über den Online-Katalog auf der Homepage von VAN HAM oder einer von VAN HAM zugelassenen Plattform abgegeben werden.

V3.10 Alle Gebote beziehen sich auf den sog. Hammerpreis und erhöhen sich um das Aufgeld, Umsatzsteuer sowie ggf. Folgerecht und Zollumlage. Bei gleich hohen Geboten, unabhängig ob im Auktionssaal, telefonisch, schriftlich oder per Internet abgegeben, entscheidet das Los. Schriftliche Gebote oder Gebote per Internet werden von VAN HAM nur mit dem Betrag in Anspruch genommen, der erforderlich ist, um ein anderes abgegebenes Gebot zu überbieten.

V3.11 Gebote in Abwesenheit werden in der Regel zugelassen, wenn diese mindestens 24 Stunden vor Beginn der Versteigerung bei VAN HAM eingehen und, sofern erforderlich, die weiteren Informationen gemäß Ziffer V3.5 vorliegen. Das Gebot muss den Gegenstand unter Aufführung von Katalognummer und Katalogbezeichnung benennen. Im Zweifel ist die Katalognummer maßgeblich; Unklarheiten gehen zu Lasten des Bieters. Die Bearbeitung der Gebote in Abwesenheit ist ein zusätzlicher und kostenloser Service von VAN HAM, daher kann keine Zusicherung für deren Ausführung bzw. fehlerfreie Durchführung gegeben werden. Dies gilt nicht, soweit VAN HAM einen Fehler wegen Vorsatzes oder grober Fahrlässigkeit zu vertreten hat. Die in Abwesenheit abgegebenen Gebote sind den unter Anwesenden in der Versteigerung abgegebenen Geboten bei Zuschlag gleichgestellt.

V3.13 Bei Schätzpreisen ab € 500,00 können telefonische Gebote abgegeben werden. Hierbei wird ein im Saal anwesender Telefonist beauftragt, nach Anweisung des am Telefon bietenden Kunden, Gebote abzugeben. Telefonische Gebote können von VAN HAM aufgezeichnet werden. Mit dem Antrag zum telefonischen Bieten erklärt sich der Kunde mit der Aufzeichnung von Telefongesprächen einverstanden. VAN HAM haftet nicht für das Zustandekommen und die Aufrechterhaltung von Telekommunikationsverbindungen oder Übermittlungsfehler.

V3.14 Für die aktive Teilnahme an der Versteigerung über das Internet ist eine Registrierung sowie eine anschließende Freischaltung durch VAN HAM erforderlich.

Internet-Gebote können sowohl als sog. „Vor-Gebote" vor Beginn einer Versteigerung als auch als sog. „Live-Gebote" während einer im Internet live übertragenen Versteigerung sowie als sog. „Nach-Gebote" nach Beendigung der Versteigerung nach Maßgabe der nachstehenden Regelungen abgegeben werden. Gebote, die bei VAN HAM während einer laufenden Versteigerung via Internet eingehen, werden im Rahmen der laufenden Versteigerung nur dann berücksichtigt, wenn es sich um eine live im Internet übertragene Versteigerung handelt. Im Übrigen sind Internet-Gebote nur dann zulässig, wenn der Kunde von VAN HAM zum Bieten über das Internet durch Zusendung eines Benutzernamens und eines Passwortes zugelassen worden ist. Internet-Gebote sind nur dann gültig, wenn sie durch den Benutzernamen und das Passwort zweifelsfrei dem Kunden zuzuordnen sind. Die über das Internet übertragenen Gebote werden elektronisch protokolliert. Die Richtigkeit der Protokolle wird vom Kunden anerkannt, dem jedoch der Nachweis ihrer Unrichtigkeit offen steht. Live-Gebote werden wie Gebote aus dem Versteigerungssaal berücksichtigt. Auch bei Internet-Geboten haftet VAN HAM nicht für das Zustandekommen der technischen Verbindung oder für Übertragungsfehler.

V3.16 Das Widerrufs- und Rückgaberecht bei Fernabsatzverträgen findet auf Schrift-, Telefon- und Internetgebote keine Anwendung, sofern die Versteigerung nicht im Rahmen einer sog. stillen Auktion erfolgt. Die Widerrufsbelehrung finden Sie am Ende der vorliegenden Versteigerungsbedingungen.

V4. Zuschlag

V4.1 Der Zuschlag erfolgt nach dreimaligem Aufruf an den Höchstbietenden. Mit dem Zuschlag kommt zwischen VAN HAM und dem Kunden, dem der Zuschlag erteilt wird, ein Kaufvertrag zustande. Ein Anspruch auf Annahme eines Gebotes besteht nicht. VAN HAM kann den Zuschlag deshalb verweigern oder unter Vorbehalt erteilen. Dies gilt insbesondere dann, wenn ein Kunde VAN HAM nicht bekannt ist oder der Kunde nicht spätestens bis zum Beginn der Versteigerung Sicherheit in Form von Bankauskünften oder Garantien geleistet hat.

V4.2 Wird ein Gebot abgelehnt, so bleibt das vorangegangene Gebot wirksam. Wenn mehrere Personen das gleiche Gebot abgeben und nach dreimaligem Aufruf kein höheres Gebot erfolgt, entscheidet das Los. VAN HAM kann den Zuschlag zurücknehmen und die Sache erneut ausrufen, wenn irrtümlich ein rechtzeitig abgegebenes höheres Gebot übersehen worden ist oder wenn der höchstbietende Kunde sein Gebot nicht gelten lassen will oder sonst Zweifel über den Zuschlag bestehen. Wenn trotz abgegebenen Gebots ein Zuschlag nicht erteilt wird, haftet VAN HAM dem jeweiligen Kunden nur bei Vorsatz oder grober Fahrlässigkeit. Bei einem unter Vorbehalt erteilten Zuschlag bleibt der jeweilige Kunde einen Monat an sein Gebot gebunden. Ein unter Vorbehalt erteilter Zuschlag wird nur wirksam, wenn VAN HAM das Gebot innerhalb eines Monats nach dem Tag der Versteigerung schriftlich bestätigt.

V5. Kaufpreis und Zahlung

V5.1 Neben der Zuschlagssumme ist vom Kunden, der den Gegenstand gekauft hat, für die ersten € 250.000,00 ein Aufgeld von 28 % und auf die darüber hinausgehenden Beträge von 25 % zu zahlen. Hierin ist die gesetzliche Umsatzsteuer bereits enthalten, welche jedoch wegen Differenzbesteuerung nach § 25a UStG nicht ausgewiesen wird. Bei regelbesteuerten Objekten, die im gedruckten Katalog mit einem „*" gekennzeichnet sind, wird auf den Zuschlag auf die ersten € 250.000 ein Aufgeld von 24 % und auf die darüber hinausgehenden Beträge von 21 % erhoben. Auf die Summe von Zuschlag und Aufgeld wird die gesetzliche Umsatzsteuer von z.Zt. 19 % erhoben.

V5.2 Objekte, die temporär aus einem Drittland eingeführt wurden, sind im gedruckten Katalog mit einem „N" gekennzeichnet. Bei der Übergabe dieser Gegenstände durch VAN HAM an den Kunden wird dieser zum Importeur und schuldet VAN HAM die Einfuhrumsatzsteuer in Höhe von z. Zt. 7 %. So gekennzeichnete Gengestände werden differenzbesteuert angeboten und die Einfuhrumsatzsteuer wird als Umlage in Höhe von 8 % weiterberechnet. Auf Anfrage unmittelbar nach der Auktion kann die Rechnung für diese Objekte regelbesteuert und ohne diese Umlage ausgestellt werden.

V5.3 Der Veräußerer des Gegenstandes ist gemäß § 26 Abs.1 UrhG zur Zahlung einer gesetzlichen Folgerechtsgebühr auf den Verkaufserlös aller Originalwerke der bildenden Kunst und der Photographie verpflichtet, davon trägt der Kunde anteilig in Form einer pauschalen Umlage von:

- 1,5% auf einen Hammerpreis bis zu € 200.000
- 0,5% für den übersteigenden Hammerpreis von € 200.001 bis € 350.000 bzw.
- 0,25% für einen weiteren Hammerpreis von € 350.001 bis € 500.000 sowie
- 0,125% für den weiter übersteigenden Hammerpreis bis zu fünf Millionen; maximal insg. € 6.250.

V5.4 Soweit der Kunde den Gegenstand per Live-Gebot ersteigert hat, hat er wegen der hierdurch VAN HAM entstehenden Kosten eine zusätzliche Gebühr in Höhe von drei (3) % vom Zuschlag an VAN HAM zu entrichten.

V5.5. Für Unternehmer, die zum Vorsteuerabzug berechtigt sind, kann die Rechnung auf Wunsch (nach vorheriger Mitteilung) nach der Regelbesteuerung ausgestellt werden. Von der Umsatzsteuer befreit sind Auslieferungen in Drittländer (d.h. außerhalb der EU) und – bei Angabe der USt.-ID-Nr. – auch an Unternehmen in EU-Mitgliedsländer. Verbringen Auktionsteilnehmer ersteigerte Gegenstände selbst in Drittländer, wird ihnen die Umsatzsteuer erstattet, sobald VAN HAM der Ausfuhr- und Abnehmernachweis vorliegt.

V5.7 Die Zahlung des mit dem Zuschlag fälligen Gesamtbetrages ist in bar, per Electronic Cash, per Überweisung oder durch bankbestätigten Scheck zu entrichten. Schecks werden nur erfüllungshalber angenommen. Alle Steuern, Kosten, Gebühren der Überweisung (inklusive der VAN HAM in Abzug gebrachten Bankspesen) gehen zu Lasten des Kunden. Persönlich an der Versteigerung teilnehmende Kunden haben den Kaufpreis unverzüglich nach erfolgtem Zuschlag an VAN HAM zu zahlen. Bei Geboten in Abwesenheit gilt unbeschadet der sofortigen Fälligkeit die Zahlung binnen 14 Tagen nach Rechnungsdatum noch nicht als verspätet.

V6. Abholung, Gefahrtragung und Export

V6.1 Der Zuschlag verpflichtet zur Abnahme. Abwesende Kunden sind verpflichtet, die erworbenen Gegenstände unverzüglich nach Mitteilung des Zuschlages bei VAN HAM abzuholen. VAN HAM organisiert die Versicherung und den Transport der versteigerten Gegenstände zum Kunden nur auf dessen schriftliche Anweisung hin und auf seine Kosten und Gefahr. Da der Kaufpreis sofort fällig ist und der Erwerber zur unverzüglichen Abholung verpflichtet ist, befindet er sich spätestens 14 Tage nach Zuschlagserteilung oder Annahme des Nachgebotes in Annahmeverzug, so dass spätestens dann auch, unabhängig von der noch ausstehenden Übergabe, die Gefahr auf den Kunden übergeht.

V6.2 Hat der Kunde die erworbenen Gegenstände nicht spätestens drei Wochen nach erfolgtem Zuschlag bzw. nach Mitteilung hierüber bei VAN HAM abgeholt, wird VAN HAM den Kunden zur Abholung der Gegenstände binnen einer Woche auffordern. Nach Ablauf dieser Frist hat VAN HAM das Recht, nach eigener Wahl die nicht abgeholten Gegenstände auf Kosten und Gefahr des Kunden

- an den Kunden zu versenden oder
- bei einem Lagerhalter einlagern zu lassen oder
- selbst einzulagern.

V6.3 VAN HAM trägt in keinem Fall eine Haftung für Verlust oder Beschädigung nicht abgeholter oder mangels Bezahlung nicht übergebener Gegenstände, es sei denn, VAN HAM fiele Vorsatz oder grobe Fahrlässigkeit zur Last.

V6.4 VAN HAM weist darauf hin, dass bestimmte Gegenstände (wie insbesondere Elfenbein, Rhinozeroshorn und Schildpatt) Im- bzw. Exportbeschränkungen (insbesondere außerhalb der Europäischen Union) unterliegen, die einer Versendung der Gegenstände in Drittstaaten entgegenstehen können. Der Kunde ist selbst dafür verantwortlich, sich darüber zu informieren, ob ein von ihm erworbener Gegenstand einer solchen Beschränkung unterliegt und ob sowie wie diesbezüglich eine entsprechende Genehmigung eingeholt werden kann. Beauftragt der Kunde VAN HAM mit dem Versand eines Gegenstandes, so werden, soweit nicht ausdrücklich etwas anderes vereinbart wurde, die ggf. hierfür erforderlichen Genehmigungen (z.B. nach den CITES-Bestimmungen) sowie sonstige Zulassungen und Dokumente vom Kunden eingeholt und VAN HAM zum Zwecke des Versandes des Gegenstandes zur Verfügung gestellt. Etwaige Kosten, Zölle oder Abgaben etc., die im Zusammenhang mit der Aus- und Einfuhr des Gegenstandes entstehen, trägt der Kunde. Soweit bekannt, sind diese Objekte im gedruckten Katalog mit einem „‡" gekennzeichnet. Dieser Hinweis befreit den Käufer jedoch nicht von der Verantwortung, sich selbst über die Exportbedingungen sowie die weiteren Importbedingungen zu informieren. Ein Fehlen eines solchen Hinweises zu etwaigen Exportbedingungen enthält keine Aussage und bedeutet insbesondere nicht, dass hier keine Im- oder Exportbeschränkungen bestehen.

V7. Eigentumsvorbehalt, Aufrechnung, Zurückbehaltungsrecht

V7.1 Das Eigentum am ersteigerten Gegenstand geht erst mit vollständigem Eingang aller nach Ziffern V5 und V8 geschuldeten Zahlungen auf den Kunden über. Für den Fall, dass der Kunde diesen Gegenstand veräußert, bevor er sämtliche Forderungen von VAN HAM erfüllt hat, tritt der Kunde bereits jetzt sämtliche Forderungen, die aus dem Weiterverkauf entstehen, zur Sicherheit an VAN HAM ab. VAN HAM nimmt die Abtretung hiermit an.

V7.3 Ein Zurückbehaltungsrecht des Kunden aufgrund von Ansprüchen aus einem anderen Geschäft mit VAN HAM ist ausgeschlossen. Soweit der Kunde Kaufmann ist, verzichtet er auf seine Rechte aus §§ 273, 320 BGB.

V8. Verzug

V8.1 Der Kaufpreis ist mit dem Zuschlag fällig. Zahlungsverzug tritt 14 Tage nach Vertragsschluss, also Zuschlagserteilung oder Annahme des Nachgebotes ein. Zahlungen sind in Euro an VAN HAM zu leisten. Entsprechendes gilt für Schecks, die erst nach vorbehaltloser Bankgutschrift als Erfüllung anerkannt werden.

V8.2 Bei Zahlungsverzug werden Verzugszinsen in Höhe von 1 % pro Monat berechnet. Der Erwerber hat das Recht zum Nachweis eines geringeren oder keines Schadens. Im Übrigen kann VAN HAM bei Zahlungsverzug wahlweise Erfüllung des Kaufvertrages verlangen oder nach angemessener Fristsetzung vom Vertrag zurücktreten. Im Fall des Rücktritts erlöschen alle Rechte des Kunden am ersteigerten Gegenstand und VAN HAM ist berechtigt, Schadensersatz in Höhe des entgangenen Gewinns für den nicht versteigerten Gegenstand (Einliefererkommission und Aufgeld) zu verlangen. Der Erwerber hat das Recht zum Nachweis eines geringeren oder keines Schadens.

Tritt VAN HAM vom Vertrag zurück und wird der Gegenstand in einer neuen Auktion nochmals versteigert, so haftet der säumige Kunde außerdem für jeglichen Mindererlös gegenüber der früheren Versteigerung sowie für die Kosten der wiederholten Versteigerung; auf einen etwaigen Mehrerlös hat er keinen Anspruch. VAN HAM hat das Recht, den Kunden von weiteren Geboten in Versteigerungen auszuschließen.

V8.3 Einen Monat nach Eintritt des Verzuges ist VAN HAM berechtigt und auf Verlangen des Auftraggebers verpflichtet, diesem Namen und Adressdaten des Kunden zu nennen.

V9. Einwilligungserklärung Datenschutz

Der Kunde ist damit einverstanden, dass sein Name, seine Adresse und Käufe für Zwecke der Durchführung und Abwicklung des Vertragsverhältnisses, sowie zum Zwecke der Information über zukünftige Auktionen und Angebote, elektronisch von VAN HAM gespeichert und verarbeitet werden. Sollte der Bieter im Rahmen der Durchführung und Abwicklung dieses Vertragsverhältnisses seinen vertraglichen Pflichten nicht nachkommen, stimmt der Kunde zu, dass diese Tatsache in eine Sperrdatei, die allen Auktionshäusern des Bundesverbands Deutscher Kunstversteigerer e.V. zugänglich ist, aufgenommen werden kann. Der Datenerhebung und weiteren Nutzung kann durch Streichen dieser Klausel oder jederzeit durch spätere Erklärung gegenüber VAN HAM mit Wirkung für die Zukunft widersprochen werden.

V10. Stille Auktion

VAN HAM führt für die im gedruckten Katalog aufgeführten Objekte, die mit „+" gekennzeichnet sind, eine sog. „Stille Auktion" durch. Für diese „Stille Auktion" gelten diese Versteigerungsbedingungen entsprechend, jedoch mit der Maßgabe, dass Kunden nur in schriftlicher Form sowie über das Internet mitbieten können. Die Objekte der „Stillen Auktion" werden nicht aufgerufen, so dass keine persönlichen oder telefonischen Gebote abgegeben werden können. Die Gebote für eine „Stille Auktion" müssen der Gültigkeit wegen mindestens 24 Stunden vor Auktionsbeginn schriftlich bei VAN HAM vorliegen.

V11. Sonstige Bestimmungen

V11.2 Erfüllungsort ist Köln. Ist der Auftraggeber Kaufmann, eine juristische Person des öffentlichen Rechts oder ein öffentlich-rechtliches Sondervermögen oder hat er in der Bundesrepublik Deutschland keinen allgemeinen Gerichtsstand, so ist Gerichtsstand für alle etwaigen Streitigkeiten aus der Geschäftsbeziehung zwischen VAN HAM und dem Auftraggeber Köln. Zwingende gesetzliche Bestimmungen über ausschließliche Gerichtsstände bleiben von dieser Regelung unberührt.

V11.5 Sollte eine der vorstehenden Bestimmungen ganz oder teilweise unwirksam sein, wird die Gültigkeit der übrigen davon nicht berührt. Die unwirksame Bestimmung ist durch eine wirksame zu ersetzen, die in ihrem wirtschaftlichen Gehalt der unwirksamen Bestimmung am nächsten kommt. Entsprechendes gilt, wenn der Vertrag eine ergänzungsbedürftige Lücke aufweist. In Zweifelsfällen ist die deutsche Fassung der Versteigerungsbedingungen maßgeblich. Conditions of Sale

V1. Auction

V1.1 VAN HAM Kunstauktionen GmbH & Co. KG (hereinafter referred to as VAN HAM) sells in a public auction pursuant to §§ 474 (1) Sent. 2, 383 (3) Sent. 1 of the German Civil Code (BGB), acting as a commissioner on its own behalf and for the account of the Consignors who remain unnamed.

V1.2 Prior to auction the items consigned to be auctioned may be inspected and examined. Here the potential buyers will be liable for any damages to the exhibited objects caused by them.

V2. Condition, Representations and Warranties

V2.1 The items that are up for auction and available for examination and viewing during the advance viewing are, without exception, used items. These items are in a state of preservation that is consistent with their age and provenance. Objections to the state of preservation shall only be indicated in the catalogue if VAN HAM believes that they significantly affect the overall visual impression of the item. The absence of information on the state of preservation has thus no effect of declaration and does, in particular, not establish any warranty or quality agreement as defined by the sale of goods laws. Potential buyers may request a condition report for every item prior to the auction. Such a report, be it verbal or in writing, shall not contain any diverging individual agreement, and shall express VAN HAM's subjective assessment only. The information contained in the condition report shall be provided to the best of VAN HAM's knowledge and belief. It shall not constitute any warranty or quality agreement and shall serve the purpose of providing non-binding information only. The same applies to general information of any kind, be it verbal or in writing. The actual state of preservation of the item at the time the relevant bid is accepted shall, in all events, be its agreed condition as defined by statutory regulations (§§ 434 et seq. German Civil Code (BGB)). The item is sold in its actual condition at the time of the auction.

V2.2 Any information contained in the catalogue is based on available data published at the time of publication of the catalogue or other generally available scientific insights. If an additional internet catalogue is prepared, the information in the printed version shall nevertheless prevail; the internet catalogue shall only prevail in the event that no printed catalogue exists or the items are auctioned by a so-called silent auction. VAN HAM reserves the right to correct catalogue information on the items that are to be auctioned. Said corrections shall be made by written notice at the auction site and/or announced by the auctioneer immediately before the specific item is to be auctioned. The corrected information shall replace the description in the catalogue.

V2.3 Irrespective of the provisions of Clause V2.1, only the catalogue information regarding the authorship of the item shall form part of the condition agreed with the buyer. VAN HAM does not provide any special warranties that may establish any additional rights (§§ 443, 477 German Civil Code (BGB)). No characteristics other than authorship of the item shall be contractually agreed, even if the item is presented for advertising purposes. The catalogue thus contains only information and descriptions without agreeing on the condition of the item. The same applies to reproductions contained in the catalogue. The purpose of said reproductions is to give potential buyers an idea of the item; they form neither part of the quality agreement nor do they warrant the condition of the item. During the auction procedure only the respective items are sold but not the frames, mounts and picture glass. VAN HAM assumes no liability for parts that are not part of the auctioned item.

V2.4 VAN HAM expressly excludes any liability for potential defects, provided that VAN HAM has complied with its duties of care. The liability for injury to life, body or health remains unaffected.

V2.5 However, if the buyer is able to prove, within one year from handing over of the item, that catalogue information regarding authorship of the item was incorrect and did not correspond to the generally accepted expert opinion at the date of publication, VAN HAM undertakes to assert its rights vis-à-vis the Consignor, irrespective of Clause V2.4. Where successful recourse is taken against the Consignor, VAN HAM shall reimburse the buyer for up to a maximum of the full purchase price which the consignor has achieved. VAN HAM additionally undertakes to return its commission in full within a period of one year, if the item proves not to be authentic. This is subject to there being no third party claims to the item, and the item being returned to the VAN HAM head office in Cologne in an unaltered state. Inaccuracy shall be considered to have been proven if an internationally recognised expert on the author listed in the catalogue refuses to have the item included in the catalogue of works (Catalogue Raisonné) prepared by the expert, among others.

V2.6 Claims for damages against VAN HAM based on legal and material defects and on other legal grounds (including compensation for futile expenses, lost proceeds or costs of expert opinions) shall be excluded, unless they are based on VAN HAM acting intentionally or grossly negligently, or on VAN HAM breaching material contractual duties.

V2.7 VAN HAM shall not be liable for damages (including compensation of futile expenses, lost proceeds or costs of expert opinions) in case of simple negligence of itself or its bodies, legal representatives, employees or other vicarious agents, unless in case of breach of material contractual duties. Material contractual duties shall be (i) the duty of handing over the item in its condition at the time of the auction upon receipt of the full sales price, (ii) providing information regarding the authorship of the item, as well as (iii) the duties of advice, protection and care which serve the purpose of protecting life and body of the buyer or its personnel.

In case of a simply negligent breach of material contractual duties, the liability of VAN HAM shall be limited to the compensation of any damage typical and predictable for such a contract, per event causing the damage up to a maximum of twice the amount which the buyer had to pay for the item to which the breached contractual duty relates. In particular any liability for indirect damage shall be excluded.

V2.8 The aforementioned exclusions and limitations of liability shall apply to the same extent for the benefit of the bodies, legal representatives, employees and other vicarious agents of VAN HAM.

V2.9 The limitations of Clauses V2.6 and V2.7 shall not apply to VAN HAM's liability for intentional acts, for guaranteed qualities, for injury to life, body or health or under the product liability law.

V2.10 Any claims against VAN HAM shall come under the statute of limitations, expiring one year after the item awarded by bid has been handed over, provided that they are not based on an intentional violation of rights, or longer periods of limitation are stipulated by statutory law.

V3. Conduct of Auctions, Bids

V3.1 The estimates stated in the catalogue do not constitute minimum or maximum prices, but shall serve merely as an indication of the market value of the respective items, without any warranty being given as to their accuracy. Information as to the value in currencies other than euros is provided for information purposes only and shall not be binding. Low-value items may be auctioned as group lots outside the catalogue.

V3.2 VAN HAM reserves the right to combine, separate, offer out of sequence or withdraw numbered lots during an auction.

V3.3 All bids shall be considered as made by the bidder on its own behalf and for its own account. If a bidder intends to bid on behalf of a third party, a respective notification shall be given not later than 24 hours prior to the start of the auction, stating the name and address of the represented party and submitting a written power of attorney. Otherwise the contract of sale shall be made with the bidder when the bid is accepted.

V3.4 VAN HAM provides each bidder with a bidder number following presentation of a valid identification document and admission to the auction. Only bids made using this number shall be considered during the auction.

V3.5 Bidders previously unknown to VAN HAM need to submit to VAN HAM a written registration accompanied by a valid identification card no later than 24 hours before the start of the auction. VAN HAM reserves the right to request a current bank reference or other references or a cash deposit before admitting bidders to the auction.

V3.6 If the Consignor, or a third party instructed by the Consignor, submits a bid on an item consigned by the Consignor, and this bid is accepted, the Consignor's status shall be equivalent to that of any other bidder. The General Auction Terms therefore apply accordingly to the Consignor making a bid for its own items.

V3.7 VAN HAM shall be entitled to place a bid below the limit for the consigned lot on behalf of the Consignor, without being required to disclose such procedure and irrespective of whether or not other bids are placed.

V3.8 The initial bid price shall be determined by VAN HAM; bids are generally submitted in Euros at a maximum of 10 % above the previous bid. Bids may be made in person in the auction hall or, in case of absence, in writing, by telephone or over the internet via the online catalogue on VAN HAM's homepage or via a platform approved by VAN HAM.

V3.9 The provisions regarding silent auctions (cf. Clause V10) apply to the catalogue numbers marked in the print catalogue with "+".

V3.10 All offers shall be based on the so-called hammer price and shall be exclusive of the premium, VAT (Umsatzsteuer) and, where applicable, resale right (Folgerecht, droit de suite) and customs charges (Zollumlage). When there are equal bids, irrespective of whether they are submitted in the auction hall, by telephone, in writing or over the internet, a decision shall be made by drawing lots. Written bids or bids submitted via the internet shall only be drawn on by VAN HAM to the extent required to outbid another bid.

V3.11 Bids in absence shall be generally permitted if they are received by VAN HAM at least 24 hours prior to the start of the auction and any additional information pursuant to Clause V3.5 has been provided. Bids shall specify the relevant item, along with its catalogue number and catalogue description. In case of doubt, the catalogue number shall be decisive; the bidder shall bear the consequences of any ambiguities. VAN HAM provides the service of processing bids in absence for the convenience of clients free of charge. VAN HAM therefore makes no representations regarding the effectuation or error-free processing of bids. This does not apply where VAN HAM is liable for mistakes made intentionally or through gross negligence. Bids in absence shall be deemed equivalent to bids made in person during the auction when bids are accepted.

V3.12 Written bids must be signed by the bidder. In case of written bids, the interested party shall authorise VAN HAM to submit bids on its behalf.

V3.13 Telephone bids are possible for estimates of € 500 and above. In this case a telephone operator present in the auction room shall be authorised to submit bids as per the telephone bidder's instructions. Telephone bids may be recorded by VAN HAM. By applying for telephone bidding, applicants accept that telephone conversations may be recorded. VAN HAM accepts no liability for establishing and maintaining telecommunication connections or for transmission errors.

V3.14 To actively participate in an auction via internet a registration and a subsequent activation by VAN HAM is required.

Bids made via the internet may be submitted as "pre-bids" prior to the beginning of an auction, as "live bids" during a live web-cast auction, or as "post-bids" after conclusion of the auction in accordance with the following provisions. Bids received by VAN HAM via internet during an auction shall only be considered for the ongoing auction if it is a live web-cast auction. Apart from that, internet bids shall only be admissible if VAN HAM has approved the bidder for internet bidding by providing the bidder with a user name and password. Internet bids shall only be valid bids if they can be unequivocally matched to the bidder by means of the user name and password. Internet bids shall be recorded electronically. The accuracy of the corresponding records shall be accepted by bidders/buyers, who shall nevertheless be free to furnish evidence to the contrary. Live bids shall be considered equivalent to bids made in the auction hall. VAN HAM accepts no liability for establishing technical connections or for transmission errors in case of internet bids.

V3.15 Subsequent sales form part of the auction. In the event of post-bids, a contract shall only be made once VAN HAM accepts a bid.

V3.16 In case of distance contracts (Fernabsatzverträge), the right of return and rescission shall not apply to written, telephone or internet bids unless the bid was made in a so-called silent auction. Please refer to the cancellation policy (Widerrufsbelehrung) at the end of the present General Auction Terms.

V4. Acceptance of Bids

V4.1 A bid is accepted after the auctioneer has called the highest bidder's bid three times. When a bid is accepted, a contract of sale is concluded between VAN HAM and the bidder whose bid was accepted. There shall be no entitlement to have a bid accepted. VAN HAM may refuse to accept the bid or accept it conditionally. This applies in particular where a bidder who is not known to VAN HAM or with whom no business relationship has yet been established fails to provide security in the form of bank references or guarantees by the start of the auction at the latest.

V4.2 Where a bid is rejected, the previous bid shall remain valid. If several individuals place equal bids and no higher bid is made after three calls, the decision shall be made by drawing lots. VAN HAM may revoke acceptance of a bid and re-offer the item if a higher bid made in due time was accidentally overlooked, if the highest bidder does not want the bid to stand, or if there are other doubts as to the acceptance. If no bid is accepted even though a bid was placed, VAN HAM shall be liable to the bidder only in case of intent or gross negligence. A bidder shall remain bound by a bid that has been conditionally accepted for a period of one month. A conditionally accepted bid shall only become effective if VAN HAM confirms the bid in writing within one month from the date of the auction.

V5. Purchase Price and Payment

V5.1 The buyer shall pay the bid price plus a premium of 28 % on the first € 250,000.00 and a premium of 25 % on all sums exceeding this amount. This includes statutory VAT, which will, however, not be listed separately due to the margin scheme as per § 25a UStG (German Sales Tax Act). In case of items marked in the print catalogue with "*" as subject to standard taxation a premium of 24 %, on the first € 250,000.00 of the bid price and of 21 % on all sums exceeding this amount shall be levied on. Statutory VAT of currently 19 % shall be levied on the total of the hammer price and the premium.

V5.2 Items which have been temporarily imported from a fiscal third country are marked in the print catalogue with "N". When VAN HAM hands over such items to the buyer, he/she will become the importer and owes VAN HAM's import VAT of currently 7 %. Items identified like this are subject to margine scheme and are thus offered under on-charging the import VAT as apportionment in the amount of 8 %. Upon request immediately after the auction the invoicing for these objects can be issued with standard taxation and without such apportionment.

V5.3 Pursuant to § 26 (1) of the German Copyright Act (UrhG), the seller is obliged to pay the statutory resale rights fee on the sales proceeds of all original works of art and original photographic works whose creators died less than 70 years before completion of the sale, whereof the buyer shall bear a proportionate lump-sum charge amounting to:

- 1.5 % of the hammer price up to € 200,000
- 0.5 % of the hammer price in excess of € 200,001 up to € 350,000, respectively
- 0.25 % of the further hammer price of € 350,001 up to € 500,000, and
- 0.125 % of the further hammer price in excess of this price up to five million, with an overall maximum of € 6,250.

V5.4 When the buyer has purchased an item at a live webcast auction, he/she shall indemnify VAN HAM for any costs incurred by paying an additional fee in the amount of three (3) % of the accepted hammer price to VAN HAM.

V5.5. For buyers entitled to deduct input tax (Vorsteuerabzug), the invoice may, upon request (and after prior notification) be made out in line with standard taxation (Regelbesteuerung). VAT is not levied on shipments to third countries (i.e. outside the EU) nor on shipments to companies in EU member states, provided the VAT ID number is stated. If participants in an auction transfer purchased items to third countries themselves, they shall be reimbursed for VAT as soon as proof of export and purchase (Ausfuhr- und Abnehmernachweis) has been provided to VAN HAM.

V5.6 Invoices issued during or immediately after an auction must be verified; errors remain reserved to this extent.

V5.7 Payment of the total amount due upon acceptance of a bid shall be made in cash, via Electronic Cash, by wire transfer or by bank certified cheque. Cheques shall only be accepted on account of performance (erfüllungshalber). Any taxes, costs, transfer or encashment fees (including any bank fees charged to VAN HAM) shall be borne by the buyer. Buyers who participate in the auction in person shall pay the purchase price to VAN HAM immediately after their bid has been accepted. Without prejudice to the fact that payment is due immediately, bids made in absence may be paid within 14 days of the invoice date without being deemed to be in default.

V5.8 Auctioned items shall, as a matter of principle, only be handed over after receipt of full payment of all amounts owed by the buyer.

V6. Collection, Assumption of Risk and Export

V6.1 Acceptance of a bid establishes an obligation to collect the item. Absent buyers shall collect their items without undue delay after VAN HAM has notified them that their bid has been successful. VAN HAM shall organise the insurance and shipment of the auctioned items to the buyer only upon the buyer's written instruction and at the buyer's cost and risk. Since the purchase price is due immediately and the buyer is obliged to collect the items without undue delay, the buyer shall be in default of acceptance no later than 14 days after acceptance of the bid or post-bid, and consequently the risk shall be transferred to the buyer at this time at the latest, irrespective of the fact that the item has not yet been handed over.

V6.2 If the buyer has not collected the items from VAN HAM three weeks after acceptance of the bid and/or relevant notification at the latest, VAN HAM shall request that the buyer collect the items within one week. At the end of said period VAN HAM shall be entitled to have the items at the cost and risk of the buyer

- delivered to the buyer, or
- stored in a contract warehouse, or
- store the uncollected items itself.

VAN HAM shall inform the buyer prior to storage. If VAN HAM stores the items in its own warehouse, up to 1 % p.a. of the hammer price shall be charged for insurance and storage costs. Irrespective of this, VAN HAM may alternatively demand performance of the contract or assert statutory rights for breach of duties. For the purpose of calculating any damage, reference is made to Clauses V5 and V8 of these Terms.

V6.3 VAN HAM shall under no circumstances be liable for loss of or damage to items that have not been collected or handed over due to non-payment, unless VAN HAM acted with intent or gross negligence.

V6.4 VAN HAM points out that specific objects (such as, in particular ivory, rhinoceros horn and tortoise shell) are subject to import and export restrictions (especially outside the European Union) which may prevent the shipment of such objects to third countries. It is the buyer's own responsibility to find out whether an acquired object is subject to such a restriction, and whether it is possible to obtain any necessary authorisation in respect of the object in question. Should the buyer instruct VAN HAM with the shipment of the object, unless explicitly provided for otherwise, the customer shall procure the necessary authorisations (e.g. pursuant to the CITES rules), if any, as well as any other permits and documents and make these available to VAN HAM for the purpose of shipment of the object. Any costs, duties or charges etc. related to the import or export of the object shall be borne by the buyer. If known, such objects are identified by "‡" in the printed catalogue. Such reference, however, does not release the buyer from his responsibility to gather information on export terms and other regulations for import by himself. The absence of such a reference to any export terms does not have any meaning and does under no circumstances indicate that there are no such import or export restrictions.

V7. Retention of Title, Set-off, Right of Retention

V7.1 The title to an item acquired by auction shall only pass to the buyer upon full receipt of all payments owed as per Clauses V5 and V8. In the event that the buyer sells such an item without having satisfied all of VAN HAM's claims, the buyer hereby already assigns by way of security (Sicherungsabtretung) to VAN HAM any claims arising from the resale. VAN HAM hereby accepts such assignment.

V7.2 The buyer shall only be entitled to set off claims against VAN HAM that are unchallenged and that have been recognised by declaratory judgement.

V7.3 The buyer shall have no right of retention based on claims arising from any prior transactions with VAN HAM. Insofar as the buyer is a merchant (Kaufmann), the buyer waives its rights under §§ 273, 320 of the German Civil Code (BGB).

V8. Default

V8.1 The purchase price shall be due upon acceptance of the bid. The buyer shall be considered in default 14 days from conclusion of the contract, i.e. acceptance of the bid or post-bid. Payment is to be made to VAN HAM in Euros. The same shall apply to cheques which shall only be recognised as fulfilment of the payment obligation once they have been unconditionally credited to the bank account.

V8.2 In the event of a default in payment, default interest shall be charged at a rate of 1 % per month. The buyer shall be entitled to furnish evidence that a lesser or no loss was incurred. Apart from that, in the event of a default in payment VAN HAM may at its discretion choose to demand performance of the contract of sale or rescind the contract after setting a reasonable period for performance. In the event of rescission, all of the buyer's rights to the item acquired by auction shall lapse, and VAN HAM shall be entitled to claim damages in the amount of the lost proceeds from the non-auctioned item (Consignor's commission and premium). The buyer shall be entitled to furnish evidence that a lesser or no loss was incurred.

If VAN HAM rescinds the contract and the item is re-offered at another auction, the defaulting buyer shall additionally be liable for any shortfall in proceeds compared to the prior auction and for the costs of the repeated auction; the buyer shall not be entitled to receive any surplus proceeds. VAN HAM shall be entitled to exclude such a buyer from making further bids at auctions.

V8.3 One month after default has occurred, VAN HAM shall be entitled and, upon the Consignor's request, required to disclose the buyer's name and address to the Consignor.

V9. Privacy Statement

The bidder hereby agrees to the bidder's name, address and purchases being stored electronically and processed by VAN HAM for the purpose of performing and implementing the contractual relationship, and for the purpose of providing information about future auctions and offers. Should the bidder fail to meet its contractual duties within the scope of performance and implementation of this contractual relationship, the bidder consents to this fact being included in a blacklist accessible to all auction houses of the German Association of Art Auctioneers (Bundesverband Deutscher Kunstversteigerer e.V.). The future collection and use of data may be objected to by deleting this clause or by submitting a subsequent declaration to VAN HAM, with effect for the future.

V10. Silent Auction

VAN HAM shall conduct a so-called "silent auction" for the items marked in the print catalogue with "+". These General Auction Terms shall apply accordingly to such "silent auction"; however, bidders may only bid in written form or via the internet. Since the items in "silent auctions" are not called out, no bids can be made in person or by telephone. Bids for a "silent auction" must be submitted to VAN HAM in writing at least 24 hours before the start of the auction in order to be valid.

V11. Miscellaneous Provisions

V11.1 These General Auction Terms shall govern all relations between the client and VAN HAM. The client's general commercial terms and conditions shall not be valid. No oral side agreements are valid. Any amendments shall be made in writing.

V11.2 Place of performance is Cologne. If the client is a merchant, an entity under public law or a fund under public law or if the client has no general place of jurisdiction in the Federal Republic of Germany, the Courts of Cologne shall have jurisdiction over any disputes between VAN HAM and the client. Mandatory statutory provisions on exclusive places of jurisdictions shall remain unaffected by this provision.

V11.3 German law shall apply; the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CISG) shall not apply.

V11.4 The aforementioned provisions shall also apply mutatis mutandis to the private sale of items consigned for auction and, in particular, to post-sales, which are not governed by the provisions on distance sales as they form part of the respective auction.

V11.5 In the event that any of the above provisions are invalid in whole or in part, the validity of the remaining provisions shall remain unaffected. The invalid provision shall be replaced by a valid provision which most closely resembles the commercial content of the invalid provision. This applies correspondingly if the contract contains a gap in need of amendment. In cases of doubt the German version of the General Auction Terms shall prevail. Translations into other languages merely support the textual orientation.
